FIVE CENTS

Corinne Adams Awaits National Bee On Thursday, Sees More of Capital

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A smiling but tired Corinne Adams went to bed early last night.

She thought she had seen most of the sights of the nation's capital Monday, but Tuesday she "did the town" in real style.

There was a lot more walking for the Salem district spelling champion, including the 898 steps of the Washington Monument which Corinne climbed to the top and then walked down again. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Adams, also climbed the steps but took the elevator down.

But that was only the beginning of an eventful day for the sprightly, flaxen-haired Columbiana village eighth-grader who hopes to win the National Spelling Bee here Thursday.

She's touted here at National Bee headquarters in the Willard Hotel as the Salem News champion, having won the tri-state crown May 1 under the News' sponsorship and a week's stay in Washington.

Almost everything here fascinates 13-year-old Corinne.

Before leaving Washington's monument, she was interested in learning that a 30-mile-an-hour wind will sway the 565-foot tower (a true obelisk) 0.125 of an inch. Constitution Avenue which she has retraced several times, was once the path of the old C. & O. Canal.

Corinne is still talking about her visit Tuesday to the Capitol Building and a tour of the White House.

At the Capitol she visited both the House of Representatives and the Senate. Congress had adjourned early, but in the Senate she listened to a speech by Senator Price Daniel (D) of Texas who was worried about the U. S. Supreme Court's historic decision voiding the segregation law. In fact, it's the principal topic of conversation on the street.

Corinne had to leave her camera outside before entering the Senate gallery door. Not only is picture-taking prohibited, you can't even take a camera inside. Corinne and all the other district spelling champions were warned not even to break a flash bulb — all because of the Puerto Ricans' demonstration in the House several months ago.

While Corinne waited in line to get in the White House, she marveled at the black limousines which discharged important persons at the home of the President. By only minutes she missed seeing Mamie Eisenhower greeting ladies in flow-

Council Authorizes Hiring Of Meter Man, Two Firemen

City Council last night passed an ordinance after third reading authorizing the hiring of two additional firemen and a police department parking meter man.

Introduced at the meeting was an ordinance for the hiring of a stenographer for Mayor Dean B. Cramer at a salary of $250 per month.

The firemen and parking meter man will assume their duties June 1. The firemen will receive the regular departmental salary; the meter man will be paid $125 per month.

Force Would Number 13

The addition of the firemen will bring the force's complement to 13 members. The assignment of the meter man to the police force also will increase the employees in that department to 13, including the three deskmen.

The meter man will be charged with servicing and repairing the city's parking meters, thereby relieving one of the two city patrolmen now assigned to that task for regular police duty.

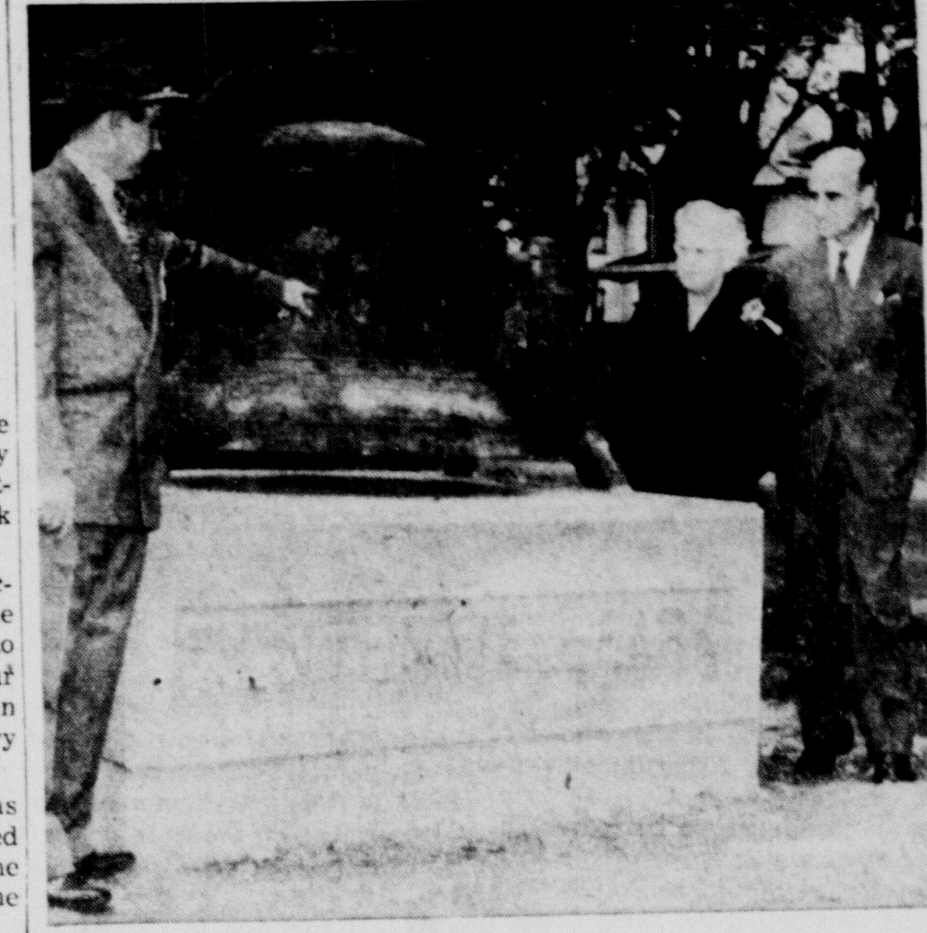

The first vote on the introduction of the ordinance relative to the mayor's stenographer was four to three, with Councilmen Arthur Hanna, R. M. Linder, and Herman Kniseley and Councilwoman Mary Bryan opposing the measure.

However, before the vote was recorded, Mrs. Bryan changed her vote to a "yes," stating she misunderstood the wording of the motion.

Councilman Linder Objects

Linder voiced objection to the measure. He disputed the need of a stenographer to assist the mayor. He declared also that the finance committee had not studied the proposition.

BELL INSTALLED AT PARK — Matt Melitschka Jr., trustee of the Salem Historical Society, points to the bell taken from the razed City Hall and mounted recently at the entrance to Centennial Park. Miss Ora Vincent, right, donated funds for the concrete installation, in memory of the late Miss Alice MacMillan. Attorney George H. Bowman, president of the Historical Society, is at the right of Miss Vincent. A bronze plaque is being made, and formal dedication will be held in the near future. The bell was cast and erected in 1882.

Council Hears First Reading Of Resolution

Measure Referred To Committees For Further Study

Salem City Council Tuesday night referred to the finance and street committees after its introduction a resolution of necessity for the improvement of State St. from Ellsworth Ave. to Lincoln Ave.

The resolution calls for the improvement of the street from the west intersection of Ellsworth Ave. to the east intersection of Lincoln Ave. by the construction of a 40-foot reinforced concrete pavement.

The resolution stipulates that $20,000 of the cost, less 1-30 of that amount, be assessed by foot front upon lots and lands abutting upon the proposed improvement, the assessment to be paid in 10 annual installments.

Unemployment Shows Drop In State, Salem

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Totals for both newly unemployed and claimants unemployed one week or more dropped for the week ending May 15, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

It was the first time in a number of weeks decreases were noted in both categories.

BUC figures showed 13,367 claimants newly unemployed for the week ending May 15 compared with 14,852 on May 8, 12,789 May 1, and 12,619 April 24.

Totals for claimants unemployed one week or more were 109,103 for the week ending May 15 compared with 109,541 May 8, 112,227 May 1 and 114,162 April 24.

Here, in the area covered by the Salem office of the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment, the total claimants newly unemployed dropped in a pattern similar to that in the rest of the state, but claimants unemployed one week or more continued steady.

Figures here showed 53 claimants newly unemployed for the week ending May 15, compared with 100 on May 8, 39 on May 1, and 100, April 24.

Total claimants unemployed one week or more were 684 for the week ending May 15 compared with 679 on May 8, 680 on May 1, and 678 April 24.

Only Akron and Cleveland among the large employment areas showed an increase in claimants unemployed one week or more. Akron was up 446 over the previous week, and the Cleveland area up 368. The Canton, Cincinnati, Columbus, Toledo and Youngstown figures all showed decreases ranging from a few to several hundred.

County Rural School Calendar Adopted

LISBON — A county rural school calendar for the 1954-55 year was adopted by the County Board of Education Tuesday night. The 174-day term will open September 1 and close May 24.

Holidays will be observed on Labor Day, Armistice Day, two days at Thanksgiving, Dec. 22 to Jan. 3 for Christmas, Washington's Birthday, and April 8 to 11 for Easter.

Classes also will be dismissed Sept. 24 for the County Teachers' Workshop and Oct. 29 for the convention of the Northeast Ohio Teachers Association.

The calendar was prepared by a six-member committee headed by A. W. Shields of Salineville schools. Social studies, science, writing and English books were adopted for the next five years. The adoptions were made on the basis of studies conducted by teacher's committees.

The social studies committee, with Harold Morrow of West School as chairman, held 35 meetings over the past year and a half before the report was presented.

Three Found Guilty On Contributing Charge

Mrs. Jean Mable Bell, 30, of 278 W. 4th St. was fined $100 and costs Tuesday on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of her children by committing acts of adultery.

The judge has turned the children over to the County Welfare Department.

Other principals in the case, Miss Lydia Patterson and Gene Harris, both 19, were also found guilty on charges of contributing. They were living together in the Bell home, the judge said. Judge Tobin told them to marry or separate.

Two other men charged with contributing were acquitted.

Lisbon Council Votes Down Sewer Tax

LISBON — Council turned down the sewer rental tax ordinance by a three to two vote at a meeting Tuesday night when one councilman who had voted for the measure at three meetings rejected it when proposed for passage.

The third reading passed by a vote of four to two with Donald Dawes, Fred Reese, Francis Clunk and Carl Morris in favor and Graham Kearney and Charles Lederle opposing. When the measure was presented for passage, however, Morris cast his ballot against it.

Morris stated this morning he opposes the ordinance on two counts, "one, there is no clause to stop the collection of the sewer tax after the bonds are paid off, and, two, it is unfair since dormant buildings, such as unrented apartments, are taxed."

The ordinance was designed to help finance and maintain the proposed sewage disposal plant and interceptor sewer.

Council voted to pay half the cost of a proposed civil defense observation tower to be built this summer. The County Commissioners will pay the rest of the estimated $450 cost.

U. S. Pledges Arms, Training To Pakistan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States formally pledged today to provide "military equipment and training assistance" to Pakistan's armed forces.

The agreement, bitterly opposed by India, was signed at Karachi by Pakistan's foreign minister Sir Mohammed Zafrulla Khan, and John Kenneth Emerson, American Embassy charge d'affaires.

The action, announced here, paves the way for sizable shipments of American weapons to modernize Pakistan's army so it can help guard that Asiatic region against possible Communist aggression.

Ruling Is Sought On Refund Issue

City Drafts Petition On 65% Sewer Money

City Solicitor W. J. Hunston revealed Tuesday night at City Council's meeting that his office was preparing a petition asking Common Pleas Court to issue a ruling on the city's proposed refund of monies collected under the 65 per cent sewer rental tax.

Hunston made the statement after Councilman Louis Colian motioned that the clerk of Council write another letter to Mrs. Helen Coyne, the city auditor, demanding the immediate refund of the monies. Hunston declared Mrs. Coyne had placed the matter in his hands.

Approximately $58,000 was collected under the 65 per cent ordinance repealed by voters at last November's election. The voters then also approved a companion ordinance asking for the refund of the money collected up to that time.

Councilmen have declared in the interim that there is some doubt as to whether money collected under a lawfully passed ordinance could be refunded.

Council originally requested the city auditor to return the sewage money March 2.

Abner Borton Home Damaged By Fire

A blaze at the home of Abner Borton on Prospect St. Ext., caused by a defective chimney, this morning caused damage to plaster around the chimney in the one-story frame dwelling.

Extinguished quickly by firemen, the blaze was reported at 10:02 a.m. today. The house is covered by insurance. Chief Clarence W. Wright said. Damage was not estimated.

Rebels To Free Heroic Nurse Genevieve Terraube Today

GENEVA (AP)—Genevieve de Galard Terraube, heroic French air force nurse who was captured by the Vietminh when Dien Bien Phu fell, will be freed today, a Vietminh delegation source here said.

The source said his delegation had received the information in a telegram from the Vietminh high command in Indochina.

It was presumed the nurse would be flown out of Dien Bien Phu by helicopter, along with wounded French prisoners.

The pretty blue-eyed 29-year-old from Paris was the only woman during the 56 days of siege before it fell. She had flown into the fortress by helicopter March 27, planning to fly out with a load of wounded. But rebel artillery destroyed her plane and kept others from landing.

"The boys have invited me to stay for the siege," she cheerfully messaged out to her mother in Paris, Countess de Galard Terraube.

The first French Union wounded released last weekend told how throughout weeks of bombardment and attack, she comforted the wounded and bolstered the fighters' courage.

Ike Refuses To Rescind Secrecy Order

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he has no intention whatsoever of relaxing or rescinding his secrecy order that led to suspension of the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Eisenhower also told a news conference he hopes the hearings will resume and continue until the key principals have had a chance to bring out all the facts, and let the chips fall where they may.

The President strongly indicated the Army was acting on its own—rather than on White House orders—in the events which led up to the head-on clash between high Pentagon officials and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

He said Secretary of the Army Stevens undoubtedly will make a statement about what Eisenhower called the disassociation between the Army and higher levels of the administration.

The President said he was astonished to find his secrecy order of Monday had been used as a reason or an excuse to suspend the hearings.

Ike Asks McCarthy Hearings Go On

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today called for continuance of the McCarthy-Army hearings. He said he was astonished his secrecy order regarding a government conference was being used as a reason or excuse for their suspension.

The President told his news conference he has no intention whatsoever of withdrawing the order but that Secretary of the Army Stevens will make a statement disassociating the Army's charges against Sen. McCarthy and his aides from higher levels of the administration.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty hinted strongly yesterday that the order will stand. And he said it was a "silly question" when a newsman asked whether the order was "intended to bring the hearings to a stop."

Eisenhower asked Stevens to travel with him to North Carolina yesterday and, on their parting at the airport, "Goodbye, Bob."

Mundt and the subcommittee's special counsel, Ray H. Jenkins, planned to meet with Brownell during the day to seek modification of the President's order, which McCarthy said lowered an "iron curtain" against efforts to prove motives for what he terms "smear" charges against him.

Stevens has accused McCarthy and two aides, Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr, of exerting improper pressure in efforts to get favored Army treatment for a former subcommittee consultant, Pvt. G. David Schine.

McCarthy fired back that Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams had tried to use Schine as

Seek More Data On Hearing Talks

Brownell To Be Asked About Secret Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican senators sought today to persuade Atty. Gen. Brownell to explain the Jan. 21 administration meeting about which President Eisenhower has barred further testimony in the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Acting with informal backing from Senate Republican Policy Committee members, Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD) of the Senate Investigations subcommittee was expected to urge Brownell to issue a statement giving limited information on the conference.

The subcommittee has been told that among those attending the conference were Brownell, White House Assistant Sherman Adams and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. When members sought further details, they ran smack into the President's order forbidding disclosure of any talks strictly within the administration about the row between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Secretary of the Army Stevens and their aides.

Claims Data Vital

McCarthy contends that further information about the Jan. 21 meeting is vital to his case. The hearings were recessed on Monday for a week to give the subcommittee time to study the issues.

Eisenhower had opportunity to expand at his news conference today on his reasons for issuing the order, which he said was designed to preserve the historic separation of powers between the executive and legislative branches of the government.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty hinted strongly yesterday that the order will stand. And he said it was a "silly question" when a newsman asked whether the order was "intended to bring the hearings to a stop."

Eisenhower asked Stevens to travel with him to North Carolina yesterday and, on their parting at the airport, "Goodbye, Bob."

City To Issue Bonds

The measure further stipulates that the city issue bonds in anticipation of the collection of such assessments, and that the plans and specifications for the project, drawn up by the city engineer and the State Highway Department, be approved.

Only one businessman of the several attending the session voiced his opinion in the matter following the reading of the resolution, N. I. Walken, president of the Salem Amusement Corp., declared the narrowing of the sidewalks would create a special problem in his instance as the project would require alterations to the theater marquee at a great cost.

Walken was assured by Council President James Aldom that Council would take his problem into consideration.

Merchants OK Plan

Prior to Council's session last night, a body of 22 Salem State St. merchants met in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and passed a motion in which they agreed to help finance the cost of rebuilding the street. Of the number present, 18 approved the motion, and four did not vote.

Elliott Hansell, chairman of the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce, told the merchants that the total cost for the State St. project would amount to individual assessments of $1.11.

The proposal's companion resolution declaring the necessity of improving State St. from Vine St. to Ellsworth Ave., and S. Broadway, south from Pershing St. a distance of 135 feet, by the installation of the lighting system known as "White Way" lighting, was "pigeon holed" temporarily.

Hanna, Linder Object

As Clerk Ralph Mancuso began to read the resolution, Councilmen Arthur Hanna and R. M. Linder objected, declaring the resolution had not passed through the lighting committee prior to its introduction on the floor of Council.

In other business last night, a petition signed by 10 residents of Monroe St. asking that street lights be installed in the street was referred to the lighting committee.

Referred to the safety committee were two petitions from Louis Mat-

Push Plans For Asian Defense

U. S., France To Go Ahead without Britain

GENEVA (AP) — France and the United States were reported pushing plans today for a Southeast Asia defense pact, without waiting for Britain to approve, as the conference deadlock on Indochina tightened another notch.

A source close to French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault said secret French-American talks which have been going on in Washington, Paris and Geneva the past few days would continue regardless of how the Geneva parley progressed.

Here in Geneva, the nine-nation Indochina peace talks were reported stalemated over Western demands that Communist forces withdraw immediately from Laos and Cambodia. One Western informant said no progress had been made on this or any other points since the closed-door sessions began two days ago.

Another secret session on Indochina was scheduled today. Informants said a fourth may be held tomorrow, but that the thorny problem then probably would be laid aside until next week.

In view of this stalemate, a French source said, France and the United States had agreed to go ahead with plans for an Asian defense pact without awaiting British approval. The British contend such negotiations should await the outcome of the Geneva conference.

The French oppose the delay. They fear the Communists may try to keep the conference enmeshed in endless debate while the Vietnamese build up strength to mount a massive attack on the strategic Red River delta. When that happens, France wants to have her allies ready to fight without delay.

Britain reportedly has agreed, however, to open military staff conferences soon on Southeast Asia with the United States, France and other Allied nations interested in Southeast Asia. They include Australia, New Zealand, Thailand and the Philippines.

Western diplomats said American plans to form a united front against communism in Southeast Asia are progressing nicely.

French Premier Joseph Laniel has been conferring with U. S. Ambassador C. Douglas Dillon in Paris. Laniel is expected to present a concrete proposition for American intervention in Indochina as a basis for further consideration by American leaders.

The wrangle over withdrawal of troops from Laos and Cambodia delayed detailed discussions on the other major French demand, withdrawal of all troops in Viet Nam to zones to be agreed on at Geneva.

Bidault insists that Laos and Cambodia must be considered separately. He contends a civil war exists in Viet Nam, but that the other two Indochina states have been invaded by the Communist-led Vietnamese.

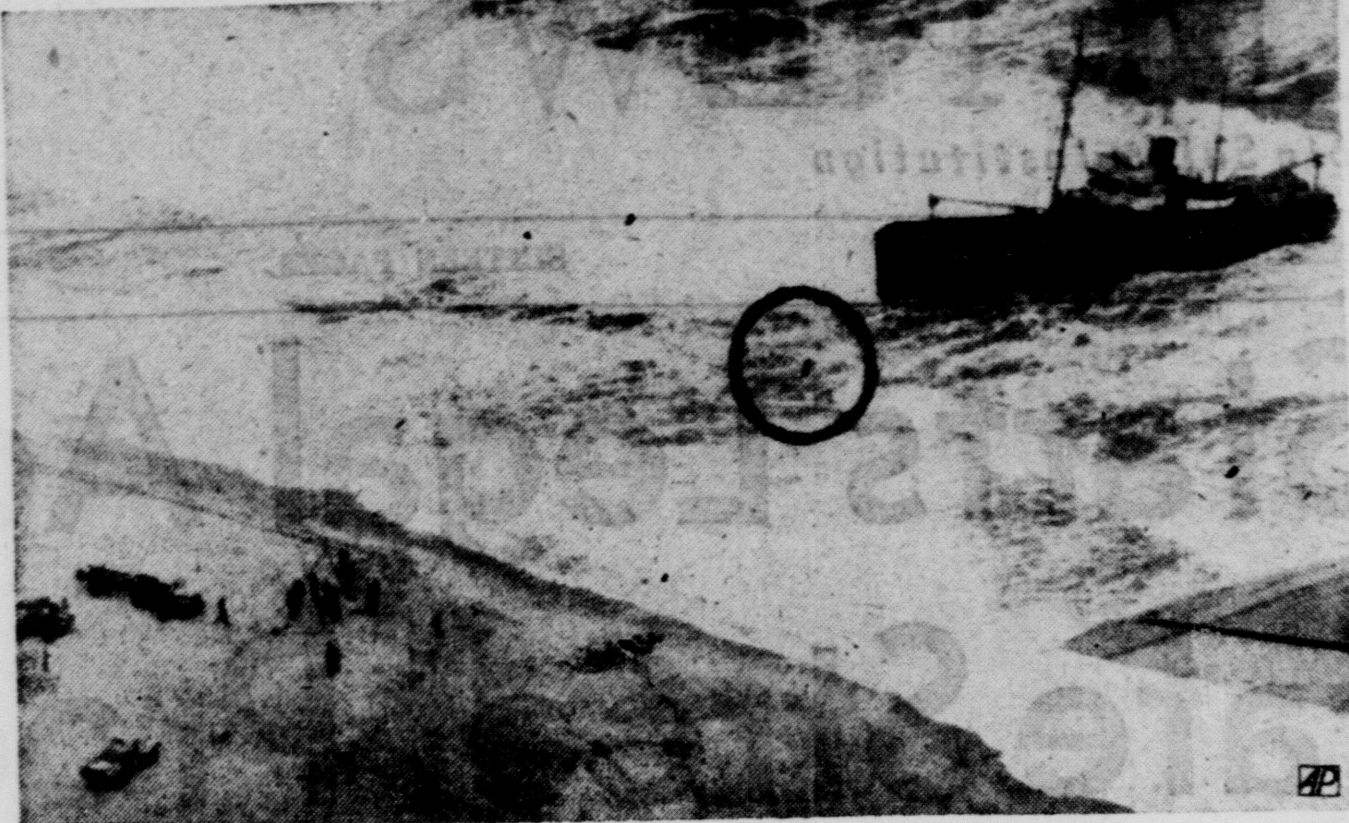

Informed quarters said the Communists rejected Bidault's demand that the "invaders" be withdrawn. They were reported to have countered with their earlier proposals that the Communist "governments" of Laos and Cambodia be consulted on any settlement.

The Western Powers already have taken a firm stand against consulting with these "resistance" regimes, which they say are only roving gangs.

Meanwhile, it was disclosed that the French have dropped their objections to negotiating directly with Vietnamese representatives here on evacuating French Union wounded from captured Dien Bien Phu and have named a mission for this purpose.

Guatemala Official Walks Out On American 'Harmony' Dinner

WASHINGTON (AP)—Guatemala's chief diplomat here stalked out of an inter-American "harmony" meeting last night as Sen. Wiley (R-Wis.) spoke of the "ominous arrival" in Guatemala of "a tremendous shipment of arms" from Communist Poland.

Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was chief speaker at a dinner in honor of Latin-American diplomats and he used the occasion to discuss a State Department announcement that a Swedish ship was unloading at a Guatemalan port arms which it reportedly had taken on at Stettin in Poland. The senator did not name Guatemala.

Blasts Lausche On Old Age Pensions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes, Republican candidate for governor, yesterday accused Gov. Frank J. Lausche of playing politics with old age pensioners.

Rhodes said the Democratic administration has ordered review of all those on old age pension rolls. He said the order followed his own suggestion for a $10 a month increase in pensions starting July 1. "The present governor wants to increase pensions effective Oct. 1," Rhodes said in a prepared statement, "thus giving him ample time to play politics with the well-being of the aged of Ohio."

Lausche, seeking a fifth term as governor, was not immediately available for comment. "The effect of the governor's directive is to permit him to order a raise on or about October when such an increase will have its maximum political effect," Rhodes charged.

Then he strode through a back-draw and out of the banquet room. Outside, the Guatemalan told newsmen: "I don't know anything about that arms shipment."

He said he interpreted Wiley's remarks as an "allusion to Guatemala" and that he walked out "because I am not in agreement with what he said."

Wiley had been seated beside Dr. Chocano during dinner and told newsmen later he and the Guatemalan diplomat discussed the arms shipment, "but only very briefly."

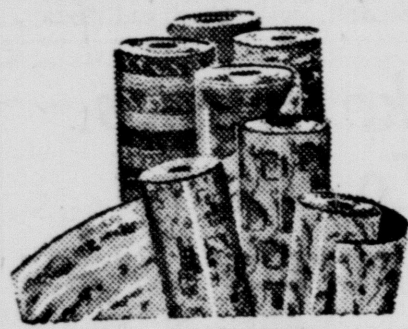

"Dr. Chocano told me that it was only about 400 tons of arms and that they were all for the army," Wiley said. "There was nothing personal, of course, in my remarks."

In Stockholm, owners of the Swedish freighter named as transporting arms denied it carried "had any connection with arms or munitions." The owners did not deny the vessel picked up cargo behind the Iron Curtain.

In his speech, Wiley called for "hemispheric consultation" on what he termed the "alarming" development in turbulent Central America.

Such consultation could be a preliminary to joint action by the 21 American republics under the Rio Mutual Defense Treaty. A majority of those republics would have to approve before military, economic or diplomatic sanctions could be invoked to quell a threat to the peace.

Until now, the other republics have indicated no such alarm as this country has displayed toward a rising influence of communism in Guatemala.

Greenford Christian Church Sets Banquet

GREENFORD — The Christian Church will hold its mother-daughter banquet at Locust Grove Baptist Church Friday evening instead of Thursday as was announced in the paper recently.

The PTA held the last meeting Monday evening until fall when officers for the coming year were installed by Superintendent Stanley Johnson.

Officers for the coming year are: President, Rev. Warren G. Zinn; first vice president, Mrs. Francis Less; second vice president, Mrs. Fred Puttkamer; secretary, Mrs. Fred Clause; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Kenrich.

Over $200 were turned over to the school board for the bleachers, the PTA project for the past several years. A new project will be discussed in the fall.

It was voted to dispense of awarding the room with the most parents present at next year's meetings. Rev. Zinn announced that beginning in the fall, meetings would be held in the gym. All room mothers and teachers will hold a tea following school tomorrow to discuss the 1954-55 programs.

now...part-by-part proof that Plymouth is America's "best-buy" low-price car!

No other low-price car would dare make a comparison like this: Plymouth engineers actually dismantled the three best-known low-price cars and compared them, part by part! Their findings, a few of which we've listed below, prove conclusively that Plymouth is far-and-away your "best buy" in the lowest-price field.

Here's just some of the overwhelming proof that Plymouth is "best buy"!

	low-price Plymouth	low-price car "A"	low-price car "B"
Comfort Level Seating Both front and rear Plymouth seats are highest. Plymouth research found this more natural seating position gives greater posture protection and comfort. (Diagram shows front seats.)	 14 3/8"	 13 1/2"	 13"
Front Wheel Brakes Plymouth engineers provide two hydraulic brake cylinders in each front wheel to ensure smooth, straight-line stops without "grabbing." The "other two" have only one.	 2	 1	 1
Spark Plugs Because they last up to five times longer before resetting is necessary, Plymouth uses resistor-type spark plugs. This type plug also produces smoother idling, better gas economy at low speeds.	 resistor type	 conventional type	 conventional type
Safety-Rim Wheels Plymouth safety engineering provides Safety-Rim wheels. They have special retaining ridges, which, in case of a blowout, help hold a deflated tire straight on the rim, while you come to a controlled stop.		NONE NONE
Oil Bath Air Cleaner An oil bath air cleaner can reduce engine wear as much as 90%. This unit is standard equipment on all Plymouth models; it is available only at extra cost on the other two low-price cars.

And dozens of other part-by-part comparisons prove Plymouth is your "best buy"! See us today... and get the facts!

Rotarians Hear War Experiences

Basketball Training Discussed By Kiwanis

COLUMBIANA — Alexandra Petrachoff, 13, seventh grader in Goshen Township school, told Rotarians, Monday evening, of the war experiences of her family in Europe, now located on a Goshen township farm.

Miss Petrachoff was born in Smolensk, Russia, but when she was three years old, the family was taken to Germany as prisoners of war and spent some six years working on German farms.

They were brought to the U.S. by Church World Service, and lived successively in New Waterford and Leetonia before going to Goshen township.

Miss Petrachoff speaks Russian, German and English and in good English gave an interesting account of the family experiences.

Leo Holloway was program chairman. Miss Petrachoff was brought to the meeting by Rotarian W. H. Matthews of Salem. Also accompanying Matthews was Dixie Wilde, Salem girl, who played a piano solo.

Fairfield High School boys' quartet, Glenn Spillman, Jim Russell, Don Blosser and Lee Grimm, sang with Miss Eileen Grimm as accompanist.

VISITING Rotarians were Ray Maurer of Ottumwa, Ia., Victor Morgan of Youngstown and Lester Burton of Salem.

Rev. Carl Sittler, recently retired Navy chaplain, who is going to Germany soon on a Lutheran church assignment, was a guest of Harry Eberhardt, Rev. J. H. Longworth of Sherrodsville and William Longworth Jr., were guests of Rev. W. S. Longworth.

After the meeting at Valley Golf Club next Monday evening, members of the club will visit two Columbiana greenhouses, the Columbiana Floral Co. and Sittler's Flowers.

BASKETBALL training was acclaimed by Ernest Hole, Wooster College coach, as an important factor in the building of good citizenship in his talk Monday evening at the meeting of the Kiwanis Club, which had as guests Columbiana basketball teams, cheer leaders and coaches.

He explained the new basketball rules and related humorous incidents in his basketball career. Dr. C. W. Dewalt was program chairman.

Guests included Judge Elmer T. Phillips of the court of appeals, member of the Youngstown club; Lloyd Brunner of the People's Lumber Co. a guest of Attorney William C. Lodge; Joseph Bobander of the W. J. Stamets Co. a guest of Charles Pignolet, and Robert Himes, North Lima teacher, a guest of President William Furney.

Dr. George Myers was welcomed back after a vacation in Europe and Russell Barrow and Irvin Brittain were home from the Kiwanis convention at Miami.

COLUMBIANA Ladies' Auxiliary of Salem City Hospital, no longer a branch of Salem Auxiliary, made 60 crib sheets and 26 surgical wrappers at its sewing Monday at the American Legion home. In a short business meeting presided over by Mrs. Clyde Richardson, it was decided to continue sewing during the summer. Columbiana auxiliary numbers 300 members.

About 150 seniors and freshmen from two high schools, Columbiana and Fairfield, were present in the Methodist Church Monday afternoon for the annual vocation guidance conference sponsored by the Columbiana Rotary Club. Earl Kirtley, chairman of the club youth committee, presided.

C. C. Womack, assistant general superintendent of the Youngstown district of the U. S. Steel Corporation, and Charles Richards, executive of U. S. Steel in Youngstown, spoke of the needs of industry and the opportunities it offers for a life calling.

The importance of taking advantage of the opportunities afforded by school days was emphasized as something that would pay off in the long run.

DR. JOSEPH SCHWARTZ, professor of education in Youngstown college, spoke of the importance of college training, which he anticipates will be as much of a requirement in a few years as a high school education is now.

First Lieut. Claudia Surratt, procurement officer of Pittsburgh and Sgts. Richard Mancuso, Donald McCreedy and Gerald Jonas, Salem and East Liverpool representatives of the armed services, spoke of the opportunities in military callings. Sgt. Mancuso said he was glad to visit again his home town, having been born in Leetonia and having spent his youth in Columbiana.

Fairfield vocal music department under direction of Loyal Mould, instructor, and Columbiana instrumental music department under the direction of William H. Donegan, instructor, provided entertainment.

Creamed potatoes are convenient to serve when company's coming because they can be prepared ahead of time and reheated. Add a little finely diced pimiento and green pepper to the potatoes to make them festive.

The Blessings Of Liberty

The year 1954 is beginning to look like a time of historic constitutional decisions.

The Supreme Court's ruling against segregation of white and colored pupils in public schools has reopened a question which has been begging for a final answer since ratification of the 14th amendment in 1868.

On the same day this ruling was made, a White House decision was made to join the key issue in the bickering between Sen. McCarthy and the Department of the Army - whether or not the executive department shall be subject to the wishes of members of the legislative department.

There is a renewal of the historic contest between Congress and the chief executive for authority in a government of divided powers - powers that were divided by the founding fathers to block all possible schemes of tyranny.

Previously this year, the Senate had been called on to decide in another issue - the constitutional amendment proposed by Sen. Brickner - whether or not the time had come to curb the executive power to make treaties and executive agreements. That, too, was a showdown on the separation of executive and legislative powers.

Then in a more recent action, the Senate passed and sent to the House a proposed constitutional amendment to restrain the executive department permanently from raising or lowering the number of Supreme Court justices. This was an echo of the struggle for supremacy between President Roosevelt and the Supreme Court in the mid-thirties.

The Supreme Court had no choice in the school segregation cases but to uphold the spirit and letter of the 14th amendment Congress and the states had affirmed in 1868 that all citizens of the United States were entitled to equal protection of the law and unrestricted privileges under the law.

In the years immediately after the Civil War no one believed the guarantee could be absolute. No one believes it can be absolute today. It represents an ideal - an ideal which has been fulfilled in the greater part of the United States and must be fulfilled eventually in the rest, too.

The first school segregation case was fought in Boston in 1849. Six years later, the legislature of Massachusetts took its cue from the first ruling against segregation and passed the first anti-segregation law.

In 1868, the 14th amendment said explicitly that white men and colored men were to have equal rights and privileges in all things pertaining to law and government.

That included schools an all civil rights. Yet in 1954, the federal government still cannot enforce an equal-rights principle against determined opposition.

There are still citizens - some of them in Congress - who deny that the federal government has any authority in these fields. There are still state officials in southern states who refuse to take the 14th amendment seriously.

They could wreck the republic if they chose, that must be conceded because it needs no proof.

The Supreme Court does not know how to enforce its ruling against segregation in the schools any more than it has known how to enforce its rulings in favor of civil rights when they were challenged.

But - and this is the salvation of a free society - most Americans can be counted on to honor the spirit of the Constitution. There can be no constitutional democracy without voluntary compliance.

Voluntary compliance has taken pressure off the civil-rights issue and it will take the pressure off the school segregation issue.

In 1896 a side remark in a Supreme Court ruling became the basis for the "separate but equal" credo which has seemed to justify school segregation by a species of solomonic baby-splitting logic. Dual school systems have been provided in states where segregation was mandatory.

Eventually, white and colored citizens of the United States must learn through education, faith and shared belief in the Christian principles embodied in their Constitution how to live together under a government which treats them as equals in all matters of law.

Segregation is a denial of this ultimate accomplishment.

The discussion stimulated by the reaffirmation may cause many Americans to think earnestly about their unceasing obligation to prove that they deserve to be free.

They must guard their freedom tirelessly against attack from without and within.

At no time since constitutional government began, have concurrent events caused more Americans to think more deeply about their freedom under a written constitution which specifies what shall and shall not be done to secure "the blessings of liberty to themselves and their posterity."

America In Delicate Position At Geneva

When 175 persons sit down together here in what is known as a "plenary session" of the Geneva Conference, there isn't any chance for negotiation. When the "restricted session" of 45 persons gets together, it isn't much more conducive to heart-to-heart talks or conciliatory process. It's long-winded speechmaking just the same.

The futility of all these methods is recognized, but nevertheless the window dressing is important because behind the scenes, the five men who lead the delegations from the United States, Soviet Russia, Great Britain, France and Red China, respectively, can get together if they wish and make agreements or decide to disagree.

Up to now, a number of private meetings and informal discussions have been held, but they all add up to the fact that the Communists do not feel they have to give any ground whatsoever.

AS THE COMMUNISTS see it, they have an influential bloc in the French Parliament and they have the advantage of a close division in the British Parliament. Now, in addition, they have some new encouragement from within the United States because spokesmen for the Democratic party have just launched a general attack on the Eisenhower-Dulles policies.

The inside story here is that the terms the Soviets offer have been getting tougher and tougher. Every time there is a speech disparaging the Southeast Asia pact or some utterance, either in America or in Europe, from the Allied side saying there will be no military help given the French in Indochina, the Communists get more and more arrogant.

Here the game is plain to see. It doesn't look at all like it does to American eyes, judging from a reading of American newspapers. Thus, the speech by Averell Harriman, former ambassador to London under the Truman-Acheson regime, accusing Secretary Dulles of trying to effect a united front in Indochina without first consulting Great Britain—which, of course, is not true—merely serves to muddy the waters.

ALTHOUGH SEVERAL Democratic speakers are engaged in a campaign to discredit their own government in the eyes of the Allies, the Allied governments know politics and really understand such things. The Communists, however, interpret it as a sign of weakness and as an indication that the American government will not be able to back up its assertions because of political opposition.

Actually, America's role in the world today is so difficult and so delicate that one wonders why the Democrats, who know what they themselves were up against with the Allied problems of the last several years, should now think the whole thing can be simplified.

What goes on behind the scenes today is a discouraging affair for American officials because the Allied governments outwardly protest against such things as hasty action on a Southeast Asia pact or military intervention when, in truth, there is privately every desire to see more speeches delivered like those of Sen. Knowland, Republican leader, discussing American military aid in Indochina.

FIRMNESS nowadays by our diplomats is interpreted widely as belligerency by various elements unfriendly to America. Yet appeasement—so often advocated in Europe—can bring the very belligerency that every body dreads.

Despite the discouragements, this conference cannot be written off as a failure.

If face-to-face negotiation in a conference like this, with its opportunities for the principals to get together privately, ends without result, the chances of the Communists ever getting the West into more conferences—their chief vehicles for propaganda—become slim.

It is a time for patience, and the American government is exhibiting it aplenty nowadays.

'Leader Of The Party'

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Harry S. Truman by sheer boldness and political savvy is clearly making himself the authentic leader of his party. The pleasant homilies of Adlai Stevenson pale into insignificance by comparison with the trumpeting of Truman.

It may be that the egghead brethren still chuckle and murmur their admiration at Stevenson's sophisticated utterances but the boys who win elections feel the hot breath of reality when their former benefactor speaks.

It hardly needs to be said that Truman's three speeches on his recent eastern trip were intended to lay down the lines of his party's fall campaign. Those lines are easy for organization Democrats to follow, because they were drawn by a master politician.

Moreover, that same party maestro aimed with infinitely subtle craft at the weakest spot in the Republican armor - the yearning of President Eisenhower to be president of all parties rather than of the one which nominated and at least helped to elect him.

IT IS THE deliberate purpose of smart Democrats to convince the President not only that he must depend upon Democrats of all sorts to further his ends and reconstruct his own party, but that those Democrats are anxious to help him.

Sophisticated Republicans - and their number is few - know that the Democrats are not in business to help Eisenhower, but to drive him and his party from office.

In line with his carefully laid plans, Truman first delivered his long essay in New York in the presidency and its powers.

His theme was that Congress is seeking dictatorial powers and that the President must fight that invasion of his constitutional prerogatives before it is too late.

THIS WAS a plea that Eisenhower should emulate Truman's course while president and declare a more or less cold war upon the legislative department.

The second speech, before the Press Club in Washington, was a plea for bipartisanship. This was designed to destroy the concept that there is any essential difference between the foreign policy created by him and his predecessor and that now followed by Eisenhower and Dulles.

At that speech Dean Acheson was a beaming and attentive listener. Among those gentlemen of the press who heard him were several who are sprinkling their commentaries with pleas for bipartisanship.

Somehow, those who harp on this theme fail to point out the essential difference between the bipartisanship practices in Roosevelt-Truman days and the condition that prevails now. Then, the president and secretary of state, well entrenched in office and surrounded by a solidly built foreign - service bureaucracy of their own choosing, took into occasional conferences a very few Republicans almost all of whom, excepting Vandenberg and Dulles, were in reality willing stooges of the regime in power.

NOW THE PRESIDENT and the secretary of state are striving to conduct foreign policy with the aid of a holdover bureaucracy almost identical with that recruited in Roosevelt - Truman days.

The third speech, which was before the Amalgamated Clothing Workers in Atlantic City, was the same, good old cry for inflation. Benefits for everybody! Three billions more to spend! More borrowed money! Lower taxes for the lower-income groups!

There is the design for this autumn's campaign. Republicans are too busy fighting each other to offer an answer.

Medical Aid

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Most of us worry about the unimportant things, the ephemeral, but many really important matters pass unnoticed. A most serious problem that faces the American people is the possibility that many of our medical schools may be forced to close down or to curtail their services.

There are 79 medical schools in this country. They are practically all in serious financial straits. Tuition fees, it is reported, have been raised to the limit.

The same report says that because of the reduction of the teaching staff and the impairment of teaching programs, teaching time has been cut by seven per cent since a decade ago.

Several schools are now debating whether they can continue; some may be forced to close down or to become state institutions.

EACH YEAR the 79 medical schools of the country educate 27,000 students, graduating about 6,600 doctors. No matter how high the tuition fees may be, no medical school is able to pay its own way. In addition to these regular students, the medical schools provide refresher courses for 17,000 practicing physicians and train about 11,000 specialists in all fields.

Each medical school must have laboratories and research departments, which are very expensive. Sometimes private corporations support these research departments, but these costs are never quite covered as new discoveries require the purchase of expensive teaching aids. For instance, a modern electronic microscope costs $20,000; in the old days, a microscope would cost a few dollars.

Many new instruments, each costing thousands of dollars, have to be acquired if a medical school is to be of real value, not only as a teaching but also as a research center.

A committee has been organized to appeal for funds to rescue the obsolescence and, in some cases, disappearance.

A committee has been organized to appeal for funds to rescue the American medical schools from obsolescence and, in some cases, disappearance.

THIS COMMITTEE is headed by S. Sloan Colt and Colby M. Chester and it is devoting itself to the raising of 10 million dollars a year to feed these medical schools so that they can continue to function properly in their fields.

The alternatives are that the government take over the medical schools as they go bankrupt or that as these schools fail, an increasing number of Americans go to Europe where they can get training in their field, often not to the standards to which we have become accustomed in this country.

During the past half century and up to the present period of distress, the American medical school rose to a very high estate, so that many believed that our medical schools were the best in the world.

The present appeal is being made to corporations which, under the tax laws, are permitted to contribute to such funds with income tax allowances.

A broad, general appeal is not being undertaken now in the hope that the gifts from business concerns will be sufficient to meet these requirements. Because of the great number of other appeals being made directly to the American people, it was felt that this appeal would be limited to corporations for the present.

ONE WOULD imagine that some of the huge foundations could provide this entire sum without the disadvantage of being investigated at some later date. When the current activities of some foundations are examined, the question does arise whether the judgments of those in charge are always sound in relation to the best interests of the United States.

Of course, these people have the legal right to spend the money they control as they choose.

When I met Colby Chester on a plane recently he told me that he was chasing all over the country hunting dollars for this cause. I wondered why there was not an easier way to gather this comparatively small fund for so useful a purpose. It ought to be collectible in midtown New York where hundreds of millions of dollars go a-begging to be expended for less useful purposes.

Some foundations have difficulty finding worthy causes for their funds. This is a cause against which there cannot be a single objection.

Unprovoked Aggression

By TRUMAN TWILL

Herewith a few things which, if they never happened again, would still happen too soon:

Commencement addresses in which the head commences underestimates the intelligence and taste of his listeners with a spate of blarney on and upward, keeping the old eye on the old goal and so forth;

Diets of cucumbers half afloat in a puddle of vinegary juice, exuding poisonous fumes in all directions and blighting the innocent lives of little children and gastro-sensitive adults who cannot tolerate cucumbers;

Sopranos on stages or anywhere else who must reach for the high notes with every taut cord in their overstrained necks at the snapping point and who leave their listeners wet with apprehensive perspiration and shame for the musical foibles of the human animal;

Another sweeping revision of automobile styling for the purpose of appealing to the roving eye of suckers who will buy whatever is newest and shiniest, because these are the babies who have dictated the whole wofus-goo-us history of the automobile since Henry Ford's dependable Model T, available in any color as long as it was black and any style as long as it was a roadster or a touring car;

Any further exploitation by television of the long-familiar fact that Washington events served up raw to an indiscriminating clientele of curious onlookers is enough to set an ordinary citizen to thinking about the advantages of an oligarchy;

Big windy talk about the equality of man under the law by men - and women - who never have taken literally the equality of man under either the laws of either man or God.

Hot-dog buns that taste as if they had been flavored with kerosene - a mystery which the baking business admits it cannot unravel but which exists nevertheless;

Shirts with collars held in shape

by those little plastic inserts which come in various sizes and ultimately pile up by the dozens in bureau drawers—but never in the right sizes;

Plots talk about highway accident prevention by spokesmen for automobile manufacturers whose salesmen claim glibly their dreamboats can go over 100 miles an hour, in case you want to go that fast;

Sports-page stories about the aches and pains of ballplayers who, to hear them tell it, are the only tollers in the vineyard who feel so rotten some days they'd be better off dead;

Clocks with impressionistic dials which defy a run-of-the-mill yokel to guess what time it is;

Functional furniture which challenges any kind of yokel to know whether to sit in it or try to fold it back up, then unfold it so it will look like something.

Books written in now-you-chase-me-Horace styles, with no punctuation or any of the familiar landmarks relied on by us readers who still move our lips on words over three syllables;

The question: What do you think of the Indochinese situation?—as asked by people who wouldn't care what you thought even if you did some thinking but are using the question as the opening gambit in a conversation which will consist of their telling you what they think of the New York Yankees, who are committing unprovoked aggression in another part of the world.

Thoughts For Today

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Letter For Special Delivery

Dear Marilyn Monroe: I have just seen your movie in which you, America's most famed gal to shapeliness and "pin-up appeal," play a rugged outdoor girl, pioneer woman, frontier-saloon character and battler of the furious elements of the wild Northwest. Some movie fans think you were in danger, but it was all clear to me. Those Indians were not after your life... all they wanted was your autograph!

The big scenes show you with Bob Mitchum in a terrific battle against whirlpools, waterfalls, rocks, and tumultuous leaping of Snake River. Observing your wearing apparel for such fights, and your appearance at the finish, I have concluded that Snake River was out of shape or not trying. It threw the fight or was party to an "arrangement."

I am demanding that the battle be investigated and I want the rapids suspended for faking. In fact I would like to see the whole Northwest mountain country probed, so that the country may know the truth about the epic battle between Marilyn Monroe and Old Man River.

As far as the Indians are concerned I think they were on the level. But they were off form through surprise and confusion. They were dazed by discovering that they and the roaring rivers were being tackled by a shapely gal previously reported dangerous only when featured with pop tunes. Some of the younger Redskins took one look at you and became of no help to the pursuit. White men don't shoot Santa and Redmen don't shoot calendar queens.

Not that I am knocking the picture. It kept me on the edge of my chair and when I got home I found four arrowheads in my hair. I just want the fight investigated with or without Sen. Mundt and Joseph Welch.

As ever
Elmer.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

The Soviets may soon be 63 airports closer to the Panama Canal. If we talk in these terms, perhaps we can take the Caribbean and its little nations out of the "banana republic" and musical comedy images in our minds. That romantic sea is now laden with guided missile bases, rocket launching sites, radar screens — and hungry, shoeless natives ready to follow the skilled Soviet agents into any anti-U.S. adventure.

We lost the support of the Jamaican workers around the vital rocket depot there because we wouldn't give the anti-Communist labor groups enough money to maintain payments on their only jeep. We lost the British Guiana populace because no one would heed the warnings here.

We lost Guatemala because people snickered when it was pointed out that the Soviet global labor network was about to seize that nation. Now we are losing Honduras to the Soviets.

HONDURAS WILL put the Russian agents 63 airports closer to the Canal.

As I write, there is a general strike — which is the deadliest, although not the bloodiest, form of revolution — in one of Honduras' biggest cities and ports, La Ceiba. You probably know as little of that city as you knew of Pusan or Seoul. But it is just as important.

There, where there is no union, 15,000 banana workers are on strike. They have changed the locks on the company gates. They control the police. They monitor the cases going into the local hospital. They guard the airport. They distribute the dairy products.

In other cities they have sent flying terror squads into the streets. They have military columns up to 2,000 moving across the country. Yet there seem to be no leaders. Just a "Committee for Workers' Unity" which refuses to accept wage increases and improved working conditions — but holds out for power over company management.

IN ALL there are 40,000 strikers who have been efficiently organized in several cities since April 30. Yet this most difficult of all stoppages is being run without a single union headquarters.

It is, of course, organized and directed by Soviet agents operating out of nearby Guatemala. They operate on schedule and on a pattern which must now be obvious even to us.

As Sen. Alexander Wiley, head of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, soon will point out on the basis of on-the-spot investigations by his aides in the Caribbean, the central source of this power and strategy is the Soviet's World Federation of Trade Unions.

As a result of his aides' searchings, the senator now believes that this World Federation of Trade Unions is Moscow's single most important conduit of Communist literature, manpower, money and false-name bank deposits in the world.

It is the WFTU which first searches out the under-developed areas in which the natives have piled up grievances and debts over the past 10 generations. A decade ago the Soviets selected Guatemala. They moved into the labor field. They captured the workers' imagination, built them a "General Confederation of Labor," tied to it the "peasants" and had themselves another Yemman.

THEN THEY MOVED in on the South American continent. They deposited money in British Guiana banks for the use of the Communist group in that bauxite-laden country. Finally, it took the Royal Navy and Marines to dislodge the Soviets' Peoples party.

In every area the Soviets need one base — here in Latin America they had two. It was now time to radiate. They next picked Honduras. They built an underground labor base. And they called a strike.

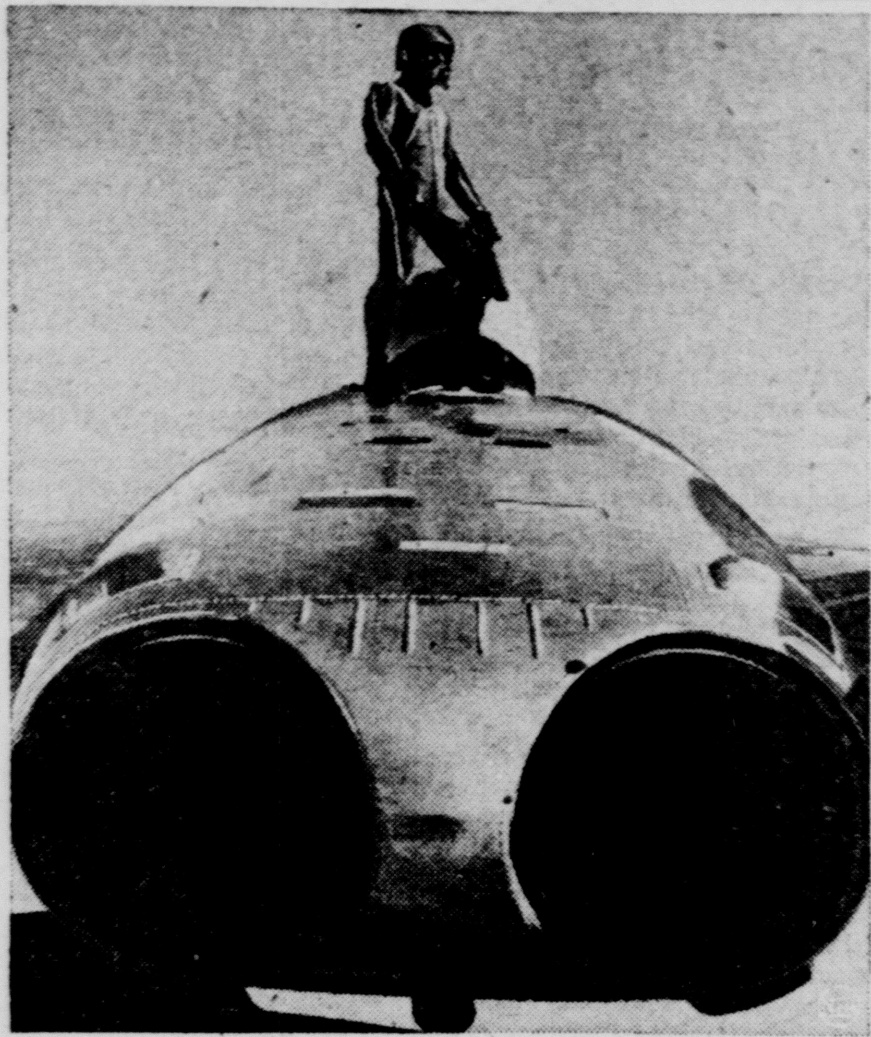

On May 25, there will arrive in Moscow a Guatemalan labor chief by the name of Firgilio Guerra. He will report on the Honduras "victory" to the Council of Soviet Labor Unions. He will be briefed. Soon Guatemala will radiate again, always in the direction of the Panama Canal.

Sen. Wiley believes we must find a formula with which to win the labor base in each nation. He believes that responsible unions must be built by anti-Communists in these underdeveloped lands — and that we must train and help these people to raise their standards of living.

Or we will face being slashed from the Canal and South America — of being put in the ugly position of landing Marines again.

Why do we always get positioned?

Church Headquarters

Narrowed To 2 Cities

CHICAGO (AP)—Selection of the new headquarters of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. appeared today to have narrowed to New York and Chicago. At least nine other cities had sought the headquarters of the group, the nation's largest religious organization.

The Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg, chairman of the council's Headquarters Committee, told the General Board yesterday the committee's recommendations will be made at a meeting July 19 in Cleveland.

Cities which had sought the headquarters included Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus, Ohio; Kansas City and St. Louis, Mo.; Milwaukee; Indianapolis; Pittsburgh; and Wyckoff, N. J.

Stop Those Horrid Lies

Your Skin is Telling
About Your Age

Premature crow's-feet at the corners of your eyes are often caused by skin dryness. Skin dryness is caused by your skin's inability to make enough lubricating cholesterol and esters. Penetrating Lanolin Plus Liquid used nightly as a cleanser—then a few extra drops gently massaged into your skin before retiring—next day a few more drops used as a powder base. This keeps your skin constantly supplied with an abundance of cholesterol and esters. Result: dry skin is overcome—premature dry-skin wrinkles quickly fade, giving you a surprisingly younger look. Get your Lanolin Plus Liquid today. Use it tonight. Actually SEE and feel a difference tomorrow morning. All this for but one dollar, plus tax.

Saxon Ladies Anniversary Program Set

The 50th anniversary program of the First Transylvania Saxon Ladies Society, Branch 18, will be held at the Saxon Club on Railroad St. Saturday, May 29, starting at 7:30 p.m.

The local branch will receive congratulations for its Golden Jubilee from the other branches of the Central Verband at this program. Michael F. Markel of Washington, D. C., will be the main speaker.

Mr. Markel was born in Deutsch Weiskirch, Transylvania. At the age of 14 he came to the United States to visit relatives. The First World War caused his visit to be extended and thus he became one of the first displaced persons, which he now considers the greatest blessing of his life.

After graduation from Capital University, he entered the Ohio State Law School and was graduated from there in 1927.

Since Jan. 1953, the church has retained Michael F. Markel on a fee basis. He is counsel for the National Lutheran Council, particularly its immigration service. He aided in creating Lutheran World Relief, Inc. and is now its counselor and a director. He is also legal advisor for the organization that produced the Martin Luther Film.

Home Extension Council Names Committees

Depot Road Couple Wed Fifty Years

Sunday marked the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Allison of Depot Road, who, with all of their children and grandchildren, attended services at the Winona Methodist Church and then went to the Avalon restaurant in Hanover for dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dickens and Rev. and Mrs. Earl Brooks were guests at the family dinner. The cake served was decorated with gold colored frosting. Bouquets of flowers graced the table that was set for 21.

The group returned to the church to welcome friends and other relatives from Salem, Winona and Washingtonville at a reception where women of the church were in charge.

Many gifts were received by the honorees, who spent the evening at home visiting with their children and their families.

Mr. Allison married Helen Stock daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Stock, May 18, 1904 in the home of her parents on Woodland Ave.

The couple have five children. Mrs. Myrtle Hovis of Mantua, Mrs. Leslie Boston of Washingtonville, Mrs. Charles Taylor of Canfield, Clifford Allison of Salem, and Gale Allison of Guilford; 14 grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Band Mothers Club Elects Officers

Thirty members of the Band Mothers Club enjoyed a coverdish dinner Monday night at the home of Mrs. James Luke of E. 7th st., when they held their final business meeting of the school term to elect officers.

Mrs. T. A. Mercer was elected president; Mrs. C. R. Reich, vice president; Mrs. Walter Gray, secretary; and Mrs. A. W. Leider, treasurer.

The retiring president, Mrs. Luke, thanked the members who assisted her during her term in office and the mothers who served the dinner to members of the Conant Band when they appeared here recently.

Mrs. Russell McArtor and Mrs. Harold Hutcheson were named to the auditing committee. Mrs. Robert Dunn reported that several new uniforms and hats will have to be purchased.

A tape recording, made at the spring concert given by the band, was played by Mrs. McArtor.

The group planned a picnic for Monday, June 14, at the Salem Country Club for band members and their families.

Serving on the dinner committee with Mrs. Luke were Mrs. Leo Beall, Mrs. Trenor Lewis, Mrs. Fred Theiss and Mrs. Paul Miller.

Miss DeLores Steffel Is Feted At Shower

Mrs. Margaret Harrington was hostess at a pre-nuptial shower party Friday evening at her home on East View Dr., honoring Miss DeLores Steffel, whose marriage to Donald Miller of Kent will be an event of Saturday at 11 a.m. in St. Paul Church.

Gifts for the honoree were placed under a large green and yellow umbrella. Prizes for the games were awarded to Mrs. George Thiess, Mrs. Willard Albertsen, Mrs. Paul Harrington and Miss Marie Carey.

Lunch was served with yellow and green appointments to 15 guests by the hostess, who was assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Broecker and Mrs. George Thiess. Tiny umbrellas were favors.

Rebels To Free 80 Wounded

French Attack Reds Moving On Delta

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—At least 80 more wounded were expected to arrive here tonight from captured Dien Bien Phu as the French mobilized all available helicopters and light planes to speed the mercy shuttle.

Coincident with the step-up of evacuations, the French intensified their air assaults on rebel troops moving out of Dien Bien Phu along the 70-mile highway leading to the strategic Red River Delta, seen as the next Vietnam target.

(A source with the Vietnam delegation in Geneva said Genevieve de Galard Terraube, French Air Force nurse who was the only woman in the fortress, would be released today.)

(A French News Agency dispatch from Hanoi said five French Union soldiers had escaped from Dien Bien Phu and had made their way to a French outpost in North Laos. The five, who reportedly broke out of the bastion's isolated southern stronghold "Isabelle," were the first known to have escaped from Dien Bien Phu.

Three top French generals flew into Hanoi today for a first hand picture of French defenses against an expected massive Vietnamese attack from the west on the vital Red River Delta.

The visitors are Gen. Paul Ely, the French chief of staff; Gen. Raoul Salan, former commander in chief in Indochina, and Gen. Pierre Pelissier of the general air staff.

They were rushed out from Paris after the fall of Dien Bien Phu for an intensive study of the over-all military situation. The French Cabinet is expected to base its future decisions on military policy in Indochina on their report.

The speedup in the mercy lift was made urgent by the Vietnamese refusal so far to repair the fortress' main airstrip sufficiently to permit the landing of transport planes which could carry big cargoes of wounded.

The helicopter shuttle is expected to take much longer, but the French hope that by using all available light craft they can fly out about 80 wounded a day.

The rebels have indicated they would permit evacuation of 753 wounded.

Up to today, only 29 had been flown out.

Union Presents 1954 Demands To U. S. Steel

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The 1954 contract talks for the basic steel industry get down to the fine points today as U. S. Steel Corp. meets the CIO United Steelworkers for a second day of negotiations.

The union presented its demands yesterday in a 1 1/2-hour meeting with the nation's biggest steel-producing firm.

David J. McDonald, USW president, said he "hopes for a speedy and equitable disposition of the issues."

Vice President John A. Stephens, who is heading the corporation's 60-man negotiating team, said he will ask the union for more specific details and the reasoning in back of them.

Neither side would comment on the estimated cost of the demands, but the union said it wants a wage hike, a guaranteed annual wage, improvements in pensions and hospitalization and other changes in the present contract, which expires June 30.

The union is currently seeking contracts for about 600,000 of its 1,200,000 members. Bargaining sessions are scheduled with several other major basic steel producers later this week.

The workers average between $2.14 and $2.24 an hour.

U. S. Steel, however, is looked upon as the industry pace setter.

The union opened the contract talks with about 190,000 of its members out of work and another 257,000 working less than 40 hours a week as a result of a six-month-old slump in the steel business.

ered hats arriving for a social function.

Inside the White House, Corinne and her escorts inspected the new East Room with its three $5,000 chandeliers and she admired and touched the damask-covered walls of the Green, Blue and Red Rooms.

Being a true Ohioan, Corinne was quick to notice portraits of Presidents William McKinley, from Canton and Warren G. Harding, from Marion. Why, of course, she knew Harding was the 29th president of the United States.

Later, the Salem spelling champion visited the Pan American Building, the Smithsonian Institute and the Art Gallery. The painting which impressed her most, however, was the mammoth oil painting by Howard Chandler Christy of "The Signing of the Declaration of Independence" hanging in the stair well in the Capitol.

Between chartered bus trips to all of the important points of interest in Washington, Corinne found time to sign autograph books of many of the other 56 contestants here for the National Spelling Bee and dine at more of the city's famous restaurants.

Corinne has found a new friend here in Jeffrey Levinger, the spelling champion from Cincinnati. Last night Corinne won a game and a prize at a party held exclusively for the spelling champs.

Today's schedule sounds exciting for all of the spellers. After a visit to the Federal Bureau of Investigation and a chat with FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, the champions will be taken to Annapolis to visit the U. S. Naval Academy.

"B-day" is Thursday. That's when the "Battle of Champions" is held, commencing at 8 a.m. in the Department of Commerce Auditorium. How long will it take before the national spelling champion is crowned? That depends on how good the spellers are, and they usually put their elders to shame. The first hour of the national bee will be televised by CBS. Top prize in the contest is $500, a loving cup and an extra $100 for expenses on a weekend visit in New York City. Second prize is $200 and third, $100. All of the contestants will get at least $40.

Mayor Dean Crammer discussed a proposed ordinance relative to parking violations, but the measure was not introduced on the floor. The measure, the mayor said, would provide a penalty of five cents for an overtime parking violation if the penalty is paid within one hour from the time the notice was placed on the vehicle.

This system is being widely used by cities throughout the state, the mayor declared, as a means of mitigating the punishment for those persons who park and then run into a business establishment for change to place in the meter.

Segregation Hearings Set

Oct. 12 Set For Final Decrees

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court is making plans to hear arguments on Oct. 12—the earliest possible date—on the form of final decrees to carry out its decision ending segregation of Negroes and whites in public schools.

Court Clerk Harold B. Willey said today he hopes the arguments can be completed in one day. The nine justices will then weigh the matter in closed conference before issuing the decrees, perhaps shortly after the arguments, possibly months later.

The court, after ruling Monday that segregation of public school pupils because of race violates the Constitution, permitted delay in the final decrees to give officials in the 17 Southern and Border states affected time to work out plans for segregation.

District of Columbia officials announced yesterday that planned to integrate schools by the opening of the new fall term. President Eisenhower was quoted as expressing an interest and asking to be kept informed on progress.

Nothing in the court's opinion prevents such steps to end segregation immediately.

Directly involved in the cases on the court docket, besides the District of Columbia, are South Carolina, Virginia, Delaware and Kansas. Other states which require or permit segregation in public schools were asked to file "friend of the court" briefs by Oct. 1, telling of their ideas on segregation.

The only state to hint at open defiance was Georgia. Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook said he would refuse to take part in the October hearings. Gov. Herman Talmadge, backing Cook, called the hearing an invitation "to help select a knife to cut our heads off."

While disappointment was voiced elsewhere in the South at the decision, most officials felt the problem could be worked out if approached gradually and reasonably.

One issue awaiting the October hearings is whether integration should be ordered immediately or gradually. Some court observers said it was most likely that the Supreme Court itself would issue detailed decrees where necessary, rather than asking the aid of special masters or of lower federal courts. This would speed up the final step.

Observers said a state which fails by October to report steps toward integration could be ordered forthwith to admit Negroes to any of its schools.

Several methods of enforcing the segregation ban were suggested yesterday by attorneys.

Negro parents could go into lower federal courts and sue for damages from school officials who refuse to permit their children to enter white schools. The Supreme Court could hold such school officials in contempt. Or the officials' might be subjected to criminal prosecution for denial of civil rights, under the Federal Civil Rights Act.

Dachshund Raising Easter Duckling

OMAHA (AP)—There's just one thing that makes Bruney, the dachshund, a little sore.

That's when Punch, the Easter duckling, decides he's a dog and hooks on to one of Bruney's bones.

Otherwise Bruney has taken the job of raising Punch in stride. He's been doing so ever since Judy, another Easter duckling at the John Wagner home, died.

Bruney washes Punch's feathers and even permits him to dip his bill in the dogfood, drawing the line only at bones.

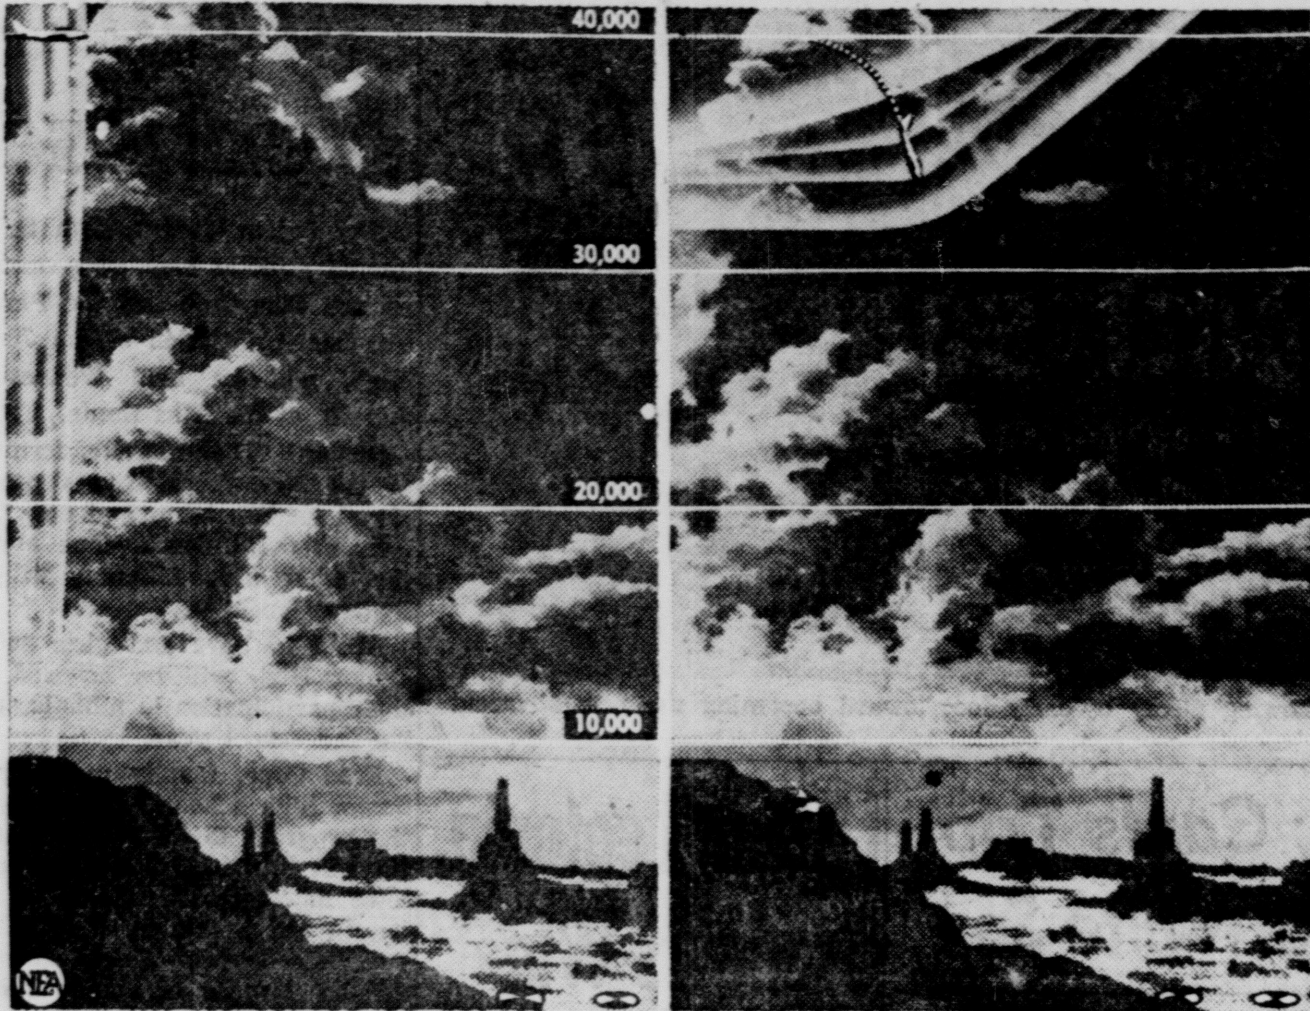

At night the Wagners put Punch in a box. The duckling's squawks of protest bring Bruney running. The dog tips over the box and the friends retire to Bruney's rug.

ACCEPT PAY INCREASE

MOUNT GILEAD, Ohio (AP)—Employees at the Hydraulic Press Manufacturing Co., who threatened to strike last night, were on the job today after accepting a 10 cent an hour increase they earlier refused. By a 421-82 vote, members of Local 1319, International Assn. of Machinists, AFL, agreed to accept the company offer a few hours before the scheduled strike. Wage scales were not disclosed.

See 'Sonic Boom' As War Weapon

Air Force is studying the possible use of the "sonic boom" as a new tactical weapon. The sonic boom is that man-made thunderclap that's one of the phenomena of our faster-than-sound air age. It comes from shock waves produced when an airplane flies through and beyond the sonic barrier. Its crash and concussion over cities have frightened people and broken windows. Suggesting the use of the boom as a tactical weapon, Raymond H. Rice, chief engineer for North American Aviation Co., says: "Shock waves of 50 pounds per square foot could be produced from low-flying supersonic aircraft. This pressure corresponds to a hurricane of 140 miles an hour velocity. Light structures might prove to be extremely vulnerable to this force. Radar detection of low-flying supersonic aircraft is difficult, so there would be no warning. The effects of panic from such a sound attack are enormous. The sketches below, prepared by North American, show how the boom is produced by a supersonic plane going into a dive.—PETER EDSON.

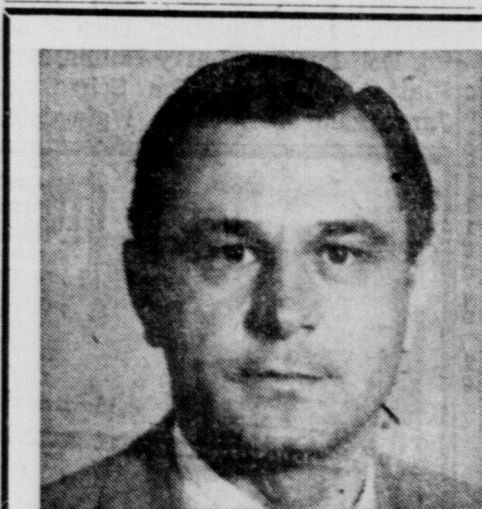

AN AIRPLANE (upper left corner) flying at sonic speed causes shock waves in the air. There are several. The first one is the bow wave, ahead of the airplane; others spring from the wing and tail. Upon reaching supersonic speed in a dive from high altitude (right photo) a trailing wave is formed and the shock waves are directed toward the ground. Because the waves "bend" upward under normal atmospheric conditions, they actually will strike the ground at a point beyond the aiming point of the airplane. The ground targets (lower right-hand corner) indicate the aiming point (left) and the point the sound actually hits (right).

THE AIRPLANE slows down, but the shock waves (left) continue at the same speed, thus springing ahead of the plane. The smaller shock waves are absorbed by the major bow and tail waves as they speed toward the ground. At lower right-hand corner, waves hit the target. The "boom" is heard loudest at a point ahead of the starting point because of the curving of the shock waves. Area of greatest intensity would be target at right. Each big shock wave causes a boom, so often two, sometimes three are heard.

THIS ILLUSTRATION shows how the path of the shock waves curves upward. Gray area is area of greatest sound intensity. However, under temperature inversions, where higher temperatures are found at higher altitudes, the shock-wave pattern would turn downward.

Nearly 110 Attend High School Prom

LEETONIA — The junior-senior prom was held Saturday evening in the High School auditorium with about 110 attending. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock by the cafeteria staff assisted by mothers of the junior class. Sophomore girls served.

Faculty and members of the board of education were guests. Gail Holloway, junior class president, gave the address of welcome. Harry Kornbau, senior class president, gave the response. Leroy Horkins, junior class advisor, was banquet speaker.

Following the dinner there was dancing to music by the Glenn Jackson Orchestra until 11 p.m. The theme carried was "Crazy-Man-Crazy," using an old automobile and cardboard figures.

Fifty-seven stayed for the party and breakfast held after the dance, sponsored by a committee of parents of the school district.

PAST NOBLE GRAND Club met at the Rebekah Hall Monday evening with Mrs. Simon Koontz as hostess. Prize winners for "500" were Mrs. Vernon Walters and Miss Mabel Middleton. The hostess served lunch.

Joe Keyser, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Keyser, has entered Salem City Hospital for observation.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Burbick of Newton Falls visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shive.

ABOUT 50 attended a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Dorothy Altomere at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Altomere. Miss Altomere will become the bride of Willis Roller, son of Mrs. Louise Roller, Saturday, in St. Patrick Catholic Church. A reception will be held at the Valley Golf Club, Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. James Leonard of Columbiana visited Sunday with

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Leonard. The Washingtonville kindergarten exercise will be held Monday evening, May 24, instead of Wednesday, May 26, as previously announced. Leetonia kindergarten exercise will be on Thursday evening, May 27, in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The group kindergarten picnic will be held Tuesday, June 1 at Firestone Park. Transportation will be furnished.

Two Towns To Merge, Become Jim Thorpe, Pa.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa. (AP)—The communities of Mauch Chunk and East Mauch Chunk, near Scranton, have voted overwhelmingly to merge to become Jim Thorpe, Pa., in honor of the famed Indian athlete.

A 10-million-dollar heart and cancer hospital is planned for the new community in the heart of the eastern Pennsylvania anthracite area. Thorpe died last year of cancer. His body will be buried in a special tomb here.

Son Of FBI Agent, 5, Cracks First Case

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Bobby Peters, 5-year-old son of a FBI agent, has cracked his first case. Bobby and his uncle were walking along Lone Oak Trail when Bobby spotted an abandoned car off the road. The uncle, Richard Peters, jotted down the license number.

The police department was notified. It turned out the car had been stolen in Danville, Ky., from Mrs. Emma Moon, a teacher at Centre College.

Braceville Wins N.E.O. District Class B Track Championship

Toles Breaks High Jump Mark

Columbiana Is 8th In Field Of 31 Teams

By SANDY HANSELL

Staging a brilliant one-man show, diminutive Johnny Toles set one all-time record, captured three first places, notched one second place, and paced little Braceville to the N.E.O. District Class B championship Tuesday at Reilly Stadium.

Braceville, thanks to Toles' 22 points, finished with a total of 31 markers, easily bettering second place Leavittsburg's effort of 21½ counters.

Among the local entries, Columbiana finished eighth with 14½ points, Leetonia was 12th with nine markers and Greenford failed to score.

In the first completed event of the day, Toles, in a beautiful effort, cleared six-feet, three-quarters-of-an-inch in the high jump, eclipsing the 27-year old former mark held by Paul Mercer of Kent State by a quarter-inch.

In addition, Toles won the 109 and 440, and placed second in the 220. For his outstanding efforts, meet officials and sportswriters voted him the Most Valuable Trophy.

ALTHOUGH NO other meet records were broken, one was tied by Oliver Wilcoxon of third-place Marlboro, scoring 16 of his team's 20 points, on a pair of firsts and a second, the slender speedster ran the 180-low hurdles in 21.2, tying the record set by Hal Body of Braceville in 1951.

One other performance came close to equaling or breaking a mark.

Little Fred Alberini of Leavittsburg had been known to run the 880 in a time much better than the record. However, it was all he could do Tuesday to nip Chuck Austin of Greensburg by scant inches at the tape, notching a first place four seconds off the record.

The 31 team entry list was six more than meet manager Fred Cope reported Saturday morning. Although the deadline for entries was last Friday, Cope related that he accepted two team entries as late as the morning of the meet.

The affair was run off under clear skies, although the weather was a little too cold. A good sized crowd was on hand to view proceedings.

In all, 20 of the 31 schools managed to break into the scoring column. The first five in each event earned a berth in the Columbus state finals a week from Friday. Points were given on the 6-4-3-2-1 system.

Phil Kramer's third in the high hurdles and fourth in the low hurdles to total five points. John Greiner added a fourth in the shot put and Dave Evans was fifth in the 220 and tied for fifth in the 440. John Case placed third in the low hurdles, the mile relay team was fourth and the 880-relay squad finished fifth.

The Bears were led by Dave Deffenbaugh's first place, an excellent 16.4 performance, in the high hurdles and fifth in the low, accumulating seven markers. Harvey Tullis was fifth in the mile and Harry Kornbau was fifth in the 880 to account for Leetonia's other points.

One other Leetonia trackman, Pete Dimko, made the semi-finals of the high hurdles and missed earning a berth in the finals by one place.

The local track season will conclude Friday afternoon when the N.E.O. Class A District meet will take over Reilly Stadium starting at 2 p.m. Meet Manager Cope reported that, as of this morning, 36 schools, the largest field in many years, were slated for the meet.

7 NL Teams Battle For 1st Place; Cards Trip Giants, Dodgers Lose, Yanks Nip White Sox

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

Before long they may have to install traffic signals to untangle the jam that's developing in the race for first place in the National League.

Seven of the eight clubs—everybody but Pittsburgh—have joined in the fun. And even the Pirates have been winning often enough to keep the others wary.

Only a two-game spread separates the Chicago Cubs in seventh place from the Philadelphia Phillies and Brooklyn Dodgers, who are deadlocked at the top. The Cubs, who have played fewer, are even closer in the vital "games lost" column. Chicago has lost 14 games, the Phils and Dodgers 13 each.

With the race so tight, a single victory or loss can send a team bouncing up or down the standings. Last night, for example, the New York Giants went into their game with the St. Louis Cardinals in third place but with a chance to take over first if they won. Instead, they got beaten 9-3 and tumbled to fourth.

The Cardinals took over third, where they trail the leaders by a bare four percentage points.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia both lost last night. The slumping Dodgers again were held to a single run and bowed 7-1 to Warren Hacker and the Chicago Cubs. Milwaukee beat the Phillies 6-2. Cincinnati defeated Pittsburgh 6-5 in the other National League contest.

The first-place race in the American League also is close but it doesn't go as deep into the standings. Fourth-place Detroit is only two games out, but Baltimore, in fifth, is 6½ behind.

Cleveland hung on to the lead by whipping Boston 6-3 for its sixth straight victory. The New York Yankees moved into second with a come-from-behind verdict over the Chicago White Sox 4-3. Detroit trimmed Philadelphia 8-3 and Washington defeated Baltimore 3-1.

The Cardinals converted six hits into six runs in the first two innings with the help of two giant errors. Red Schoendienst hit his first homer in the eighth. Hank Thompson hit one for the Giants. Gerry Staley stayed the distance for the second time this season and picked up his third victory. Stan Musial singled twice, walked twice and struck out.

While Hacker was taming Brooklyn on four hits, the Cubs opened with four straight singles and scored four runs in the first inning against Billy Loes. The only Brooklyn run came in the seventh on Duke Snider's blast over the scoreboard.

Curt Simmons pitched three hitless innings for the Phils against the Braves and held a 1-0 lead going into the sixth when his magic expired after an error by Granny Hamner let in the tying run. With two on and two out, Johnny Logan tripled and rode home on a single by Del Crandall.

Al Rosen blasted two home runs and drove in another with a double for Cleveland. Boston got three runs in the first two innings off Art Houtteman, who was replaced by Bob Chakales in the second. Hal Newhouse worked the last two innings.

Ted Williams played at night for the first time and collected one single in four appearances. He failed twice with the bases loaded and two out.

The White Sox pulled away to a 3-0 lead only to get caught by the Yankees in the eighth when, with two out and one on, Gene Woodling hit a home run. In the ninth, with two out and two on, Yogi Berra drilled a single off Don Johnson for the winning run.

Steve Gromek became the winning pitcher in either league when he picked up No. 7 for the Tigers at the expense of the Athletics. The former Cleveland right-hander won only seven all last season. He's been beaten once.

Baltimore's Bob Turley, who seems to get involved in close games whether he wins or loses, lost a close one this time to Maury McDermott of the Senators. All Washington runs came in the sixth, two of them on a triple by Mickey Vernon.

Romine To See Action At Canfield Speedway

Jimmy Romine, 1953 late model champion, returns to action in the Sportsmen Division at the Canfield Speedway tonight. Romine, popular Youngstown auto salesman, was injured nearly four weeks ago in a 100-mile duel, but is now ready to go again in the stock car races.

Romine, who placed fifth in the point standings here last year will be one of tonight's favorites in a 60-car field.

There will be three heat races, two semifinals, consolation, a Hard Top duel, and the 25-lap feature. Time trials start at 7 and the first race at 8:30 p.m.

Stengel Says NL Team May Hire Richards

CHICAGO (AP) Casey Stengel brought his New York Yankees to town yesterday and made the White Sox take it on the chin twice—on the field and verbally.

The Yanks played before the largest home crowd of the sea on and pulled out a 4-3 victory over the Sox when Gene Woodling hit a two-run homer in the eighth and Yogi Berra knocked in a tie-breaking run in the ninth.

Stengel aimed at sweeping the two-game series by sending his ace southpaw "soft stuff" pitcher Ed Lopat, who has won five straight, against the Sox' Billy Pierce (2-3) today.

Adding to the Sox' discomfort—at least for General Manager Frank Lane—were Carey's observations on the Sox and Lane in particular. He softened this, however, with a complimentary remark about Sox Manager Paul Richards.

"Looks like Richards is doing a right good job again," said Stengel. "But it seems to me that other fellow out there (Lane) who does all the talking about the time he was getting himself a long-term contract with the Sox, should have thought about nailing Richards down with one too. (Richards' current two-year pact expires after this season.)"

"That guy's a pretty good manager, the way I watch him doing things. . . . And I shouldn't be telling Lane to keep him because if he went out of the league, may be I'd last longer myself. I kinda got an idea that a few other clubs might be interested in Mr. Richards for a term of years. You don't get managers as good as that one every time you pick, you know."

Does that mean the White Sox are the team Stengel fears most in the American League race this year?

"No," he said. "We fear everybody and we fear nobody, depending on the situation. The whole league is much faster. The Tigers and A's have more speed . . . and we're not supposed to have much pitching. So maybe everybody'll be tied by September and we'll have to start all over again."

TUESDAY'S STARS

Batting — Al Rosen, Cleveland Indians, hit two home runs and a double as the Indians beat Boston, 6-3.

Pitching — Warren Hacker, Chicago Cubs, scattered four hits in defeating Brooklyn, 7-1.

During the summer months Bob Bondanza, San Jose State basketball player, works on the coffee plantation owned by his parents in El Salvador, Central America.

Lisbon, Leetonia, Grangers Win

Mullins Upset In City Softball Play

Lisbon upset Mullins 8-0, Butler Grange blasted Electric Furnace 11-0, and Leetonia defeated Parkers 13-3 in city league softball action last night at Kelley Field.

Too many errors and too few hits proved the downfall of the Mullins as they recorded seven errors but only two hits while Lisbon collected seven hits and played errorless ball.

Lisbon scored one in the first, one in the second, three in the third and three in the sixth. Cartwright and Logue hit twice each for the winners. Logue was the winning pitcher and Beeson and McQuiston tossed for Mullins.

Butler Grange took a two-run first inning lead, adding four in the third, two in the fourth and three in the fifth. A scratch hit by Smith deprived Mercer of a no-hit game.

A powerful array of batsmen for the Grangers collected nine hits including two home runs, two triples and a double.

Bozich and Joe Vogelhuber each connected for two hits for the winners.

Bell hurled a neat four-hitter and hit a home run as Leetonia defeated Parkers. Leetonia racked up nine hits, two each by Briden and Limpose. Parkers had six errors, hurting their cause.

The victors pulled off to a 5-0 first inning lead, adding four in the fourth and four more in the fifth.

Tribe Beats Red Sox, Rosen Homers Twice

1st Sacker Now Batting .374

Williams Held To 1 Hit In 4 Tries

CLEVELAND (AP)—Al Rosen drove in three doubles with two home runs and a double last night as the Cleveland Indians tightened their hold on first place by beating the Boston Red Sox, 6-3.

That gave the husky first baseman the second best batting average in the league, just five percentage points behind Bobby Avila, another Indian. It also gave Rosen the lead in the home run race and boosted his advantage in the RBI contest.

Rosen, who lead in homers and RBI's last season and just missed leading in the averages, credits "relaxation" for his .374 average, eight home runs and 36 runs batted in.

Al, who has a new son, says that he just "takes it easy" at home until it's time to go to the park. He added Coach Red Kress had recently corrected a batting flaw, making possible more long hits.

Boston, with Ted Williams in the lineup despite a temperature down to 53 degrees, took a three-run lead before Rosen opened the Indians' half of the second with his seventh homer.

Larry Doby and Rudy Regalado followed with singles and Doby scored on Jim Hegan's long fly. Rosen opened the sixth with his second four-base blow. Doby followed with a walk, took second as Regalado grounded out and scored on George Strickland's single.

The insurance runs came in the seventh and eighth. Avila singled and scored on Rosen's double. Hegan doubled, took third on an error and ran to the plate when Al Smith hit into a forceout.

Williams got only one hit in four chances and was benched for a runner after he singled in the seventh.

Bob Chakales, a relief pitcher who took over for Art Houtteman, retired the Boston slugger twice with the bases filled and two outs. While Houtteman was still working, Williams drove in one run by grounding out.

Williams, recovering from a broken collarbone, had said earlier that he wouldn't play unless it was warm enough. Cold weather bothered his shoulder.

The run he did drive in came in the first inning after Billy Goodman had tripped.

Boston got its other runs after there were two out in the second. Sam White and Bill Henry singled and there were three walks—to Milt Bolling, Goodman and Harry Agganis. Williams' fly ended that threat before more damage was done.

The victory—Cleveland's sixth in a row—left the Tribe a full game ahead of New York, which moved into second place by beating Chicago.

Bob Lemon pitches for Cleveland today against Boston's Willard Nixon.

500 Rural School Children Vie In Athletic Meet At Lisbon

Five hundred screaming boys and girls at the County Fairgrounds Tuesday cheered on their classmates at the county rural schools' largest field day since the athletic meet was initiated four years ago.

Knox Local School, which tallied 52 points, won the first place trophy, awarded by Peter F. Marra of Wayne Local School, field day chairman.

Fairfield Centralized School, with 43 points, won the runnerup trophy and United Local, with 38, placed third.

Fifth through eighth graders competed from 16 of the 19 county schools. Only Unity Local, O a k Grove and Clarkson schools were not represented.

The baton twirling contest ended in a tie between Knox and West Point. Kenneth Ruckman and James Peddic, county music teachers, judged the event.

Other events, the grade and the winning school are:

Shuttle race, boys, 5, West Point; 6, United Local; 7, Knox; 8, Fairview; shuttle race, girls, 5, Knox; 6, Rogers; 7, Calcutta; 8, No. 16; running broad jump, boys 5, West; 6, Fairfield; 7, West Point; 8, Fairview; standing broad jump, boys — 5, New Waterford; 6, United Local; 7, West; 8, West.

100 yard dash, boys — 5, West Point; 6, Fairfield; 7, Rogers; 8, Knox; 50 yard dash, girls — 5, Highlandtown, eighth grade.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. L. LIDE

James, Birch of East Liverpool moves to the head of the class this week in fishing honors. He landed an 18" brown trout on the north branch of Little Beaver Creek Saturday using a spinning outfit and Miracle Minnow lure.

Trout in this area are rare and his catch, no doubt, is one of the "big boys" that took off down stream after being stocked a few years ago by the state of Pennsylvania. Fishermen pick up a few in Little Beaver but it takes a real fisherman to turn the trick.

HAROLD BURRIER and wife, of Salem, fishing at Lake Guilford took home 24 crappies Saturday and were back after more Sunday morning with 4 on the stringer when I approached them. Allen Copstick, six, of East Liverpool, landed six crappies while his father, Frank, Jr., and grandfather, Frank Sr., caught only two each. Young Allen is now confined at home with the measles, much to his disgust, right when fish are beginning to bite.

The water temperature is still below 60 degrees and shore fishing is not what it should be this time of the year.

From my observations over a period of years, I have concluded that fishing is best after the water temperature reaches 60 degrees. The large schools of crappies are not yet venturing in close to shore but the month of May is the time to go after them.

THE COLUMBIANA County Fish and Game Club of Lisbon recently added a ladies auxiliary to its organization. Leave it to the ladies and there will always be tasty lunches provided after each meeting, accompanied by an interim banquet.

This club has an option on a piece of land it hopes to own where it can carry on its own private conservation practices. Not only is this one of the oldest—if not the oldest—sportsmen organizations within the county, but it has a membership of about 250 that has come to life and intends to do things in the future.

I HAD A CALL from the Thomas Cox farm near Signal Sunday. Tom reported a strange animal of tortoise shell coloration, large as a fox hound with a slim body and pointed ears, stealing his chickens.

We took a walk back on the strip mine area and the "critter" was flushed where it was hiding among the rocks along the strip banks. I did not see it but Tom took a quick shot at it with his 22.

Going over the area we noticed all kinds of fox signs, chicken feathers, duck feathers and muskrat hair, along with parts of turtles, in the droppings.

Tom would like to have some of our local gun enthusiasts with "souped up" rifles and scopes to sit around on these spoil banks and help him get rid of the varmints. (Not groundhogs please, the season is not in). He also would welcome the sportsmen to visit his place for a fox run-up.

OBSERVATIONS: A fisherman wading across the swift waters and slippery rocks of Little Beaver Creek at Fredericktown with his small son draped over his right shoulder and carrying his minnow bucket and fishing pole in his left hand. No one was worried but me. Two ospreys flying over Zephericks Lake ready for a crash dive

Redlegs Edge Out Pittsburgh 6-5

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds crept about as close as possible to first place but remained in the second division with a 6-5 win over the Pittsburgh Pirates last night.

The fifth-place Reds today are one-half game out of first and two percentage points out of fourth in the logjammed National League race.

Cincinnati used Andy Seminick's head, Gus Bell's single, double and triple, and the relief pitching of Jackie Collum and Frank Smith in compiling their 17th victory.

Seminick safely bunted in the third inning to start a five-run uprising. He advanced to second on pitched Harry Perkowski's sacrifice, and ran to third on Bobby Adams' single to right field. When Roy McMillan bounced to third baseman Sid Gordon, Gordon tossed to the plate and smacked Andy on the back of the head, permitting him to score.

Bell's triple to center drove in Adams and McMillan. Ted Kluszewski and Jim Greengrass each doubled home a run.

The Reds added the clincher in the ninth. Seminick, who singled, was replaced by pinch runner Chuck Harmon. Collum sacrificed and Harmon scored on a pinch-hit single by Bob Borkowski.

Perkowski walked seven Pirates, hit one batter, threw a wild pitch and was constantly in trouble. The Pirates earned three runs off him in the fourth and a fraction in the fifth.

Manager Birdie Tebbetts saw enough of Perkowski in the fifth sending Collum in for Jackie's second relief victory. Both wins were at the expense of the Pirates.

The Reds cut the lead to one run in the seventh, scoring on a pair of singles and a wild pitch. Curt Roberts and Gair Allie opened the 11th inning with singles. Tebbetts sent reliable Smith to the rescue after a sacrifice. A deep fly scored Roberts, but Eddie Pell-grini popped to Rocky Bridges to end the threat. The Reds and Pirates tangled again tonight. Bell's two runs-batted-in gave him 33 for the season, second high in the league.

Sports Chatter

NEW YORK (AP)—New owners of the Baltimore Orioles might make note of the fact that the Milwaukee Braves are running about 30,000 behind their 1953 attendance. The Braves hope to make it up, however, since two big games with the Brooklyn Dodgers were postponed. Baltimore has been packing them in, but most observers around the American League shudder when they think of the future if the Orioles don't develop into a pennant threat.

Pittsburgh third baseman Sid Gordon, whose right leg has been ailing, says, "It's nice to be on a club where the fellows are so interested in me. Makes you feel good when they keep asking how you feel. It will be nice when I can help them score some runs."

Ray Boone, who only a year ago was an unnerved young man trying to play shortstop for the Cleveland Indians, has been batting third and fourth for the Detroit Tigers. The year has made a great deal of difference. "I knew everybody was watching me all the time in Cleveland," he explains. "I couldn't help but feel the pressure. It means a lot to have the fans on your side."

If you want to shove sentiment aside, the St. Louis Cardinals seem justified in dealing away Enos Slaughter. Since young Waldo Moon has been in the lineup, he has stayed around the .350 mark. Baltimore's new scoreboard is valued at $172,000. Cleveland General Manager Hank Greenberg wants every American League club to play a home-and-home series with every National League club during the regular season, the results to count in the standings.

Man, Ill With Cancer Made Citizen In Bed
PARAMUS, N. J. (AP)—Thorwald W. Petersen, 66, seriously ill with lung cancer, had his fondest wish fulfilled yesterday.

He became a citizen of the United States, lying in his hospital bed at Bergen Pines, Bergen County Judge Lawrence A. Caviano came robed to the bedside to administer the oath. Looking on were his clerk and Raymond Hof-

Life Term Halted From Flirting With Murderess
SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP)—Francis Silva, 23-year-old life term, is in trouble for trying to flirt with Barbara Graham, 31-year-old condemned murderess and the only woman prisoner in San Quentin Penitentiary.

The prison disciplinary committee says it found Silva guilty of unauthorized communication, for "wolf whistles" and loud whispers directed at Mrs. Graham. His privileges were suspended for 30 days.

The one-sided flirtation was conducted across the courtyard separating the prison psychiatric ward, where Silva is held, and the cell where Mrs. Graham is awaiting death.

Sleepless Wives

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Lately I've been running into a lot of sleepless wives.

Can't figure out the reason, but naturally this sleeplessness must be caused by husbands.

When a man gets insomnia, he generally shoulders the full responsibility for it himself. He figures he drank too much coffee, ate the wrong combination of foods, or else took his business or personal worries to bed with him.

A wife approaches the problem from the opposite direction.

"I can't sleep," she muses. "Why? What has my husband been up to now?"

Her only task then is to find something her husband has done wrong. As this isn't very difficult for the average wife, she pins down his latest error, bawls him out roundly, and then is able again to sleep the sleep of the just.

Sometimes a husband discovers his wife's insomnia has been caused not by something he did—but something he didn't do.

"Why didn't you stop me from eating that rich dessert last night?" she tells him. "You knew it wouldn't agree with me. But there you sat like a complete dolt, and let me go right on eating it. Sometimes I don't know what I'm going to do with you. I never slept a wink."

Every husband over the years gets thoroughly familiar with that wifely phrase—"I never slept a wink." For some reason known only to women, however, you never hear a wife admit, "Well, I slept a wink last night."

There are several common types of insomnia among wives, and perhaps you have one of the following in your own home:

1. The empty stomach insomnia—This plump lady wakes up every hour on the hour, then raids the refrigerator, wolfs down half a chicken—and sleeps like a baby for another hour. Her real problem is that she hates to waste time sleeping when she could be eating. The best way to solve the situation is to move the refrigerator to her bedside, or else set her up a cot in the kitchen.

2. The choker—She wraps her arms around her husband's neck, slowly throttling him. The last words he hears just before he blacks out unconscious are her moans, "why can't I sleep?" If you check this wife's family tree, you will probably find her great-great-grandmother was a boa constrictor.

3. The false insomnia—This wife snores like a den of roaring lions from midnight until 8 a.m., then looks accusingly over at her red-eyed sleepless husband and says, "you simply have got to do something about your snoring. It kept me awake all night."

4. The traveling insomnia—She wraps herself in a sheet and two blankets and prowls the house in search of sleep. She dozes in every bed and chair and winds up on the living room rug. But as soon as her husband goes to work she lies down on a couch and sleeps like an angel all day.

5. The intermittent dreamer—"I just dreamed I was walking barefoot in my nightgown through a meadow full of $1,000 bills," she says, shaking her husband awake. "What does that mean?"

She settles herself to stay awake all night hoping her husband will talk in his sleep and reveal the name of the blonde she is sure he is keeping on the sly.

7. The share-and-share alike insomnia—"Don't you dare go to sleep before I do," she sternly warns her husband. "Marriage is a 50-50 business. If I can't sleep, why should you?"

What can a man do to cure his wife's insomnia. Of course, he should smother her with sympathy and understanding. But the best thing he can do is earn more money for her. Nothing relaxes a woman better—or puts her in more of a restful mood—than spending a lot of money.

The worst thing a husband can do is to tell his wife, "why don't you do a little more work? The reason you can't sleep is you are overtired from doing nothing so hard all day long."

That is a sure way for him to get insomnia himself.

BRILLIANT COED—Edith Maria Binde (above), 20, who once escaped from the Russian zone in Germany with her family, will graduate from the University of Illinois at Urbana in August after only one year in college. Miss Binde, who entered the university in September, 1953, has been selected as one of the six campus beauties by the Illio, the university annual.

Anti-Lausche Forces Almost Captured Control Of Party

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An attempt by anti-Lausche forces to seize control of the state Democratic organization came closer than the showdown indicated.

Eugene H. Hanhart, Dover insurance man, won a fourth two-year term as Democratic state chairman at Monday's meeting of controlling committees to elect officers.

But reports indicated Ray T. Miller of Cleveland, veteran party chairman in Cuyahoga County, at one time came within four votes of lining up enough strength to block Hanhart's re-election.

Miller long has been a foe of Gov. Frank J. Lausche, former Cleveland mayor and judge now seeking a fifth term as the state's chief executive. Hanhart often has been called Lausche's hand-picked chairman despite denials.

Miller echoed complaints in party circles that Hanhart's devotion to Lausche left other election candidates to shift pretty much for themselves. He called for equitable financial and other support for all office contenders.

Lausche forces reportedly have raised campaign funds independently of the state organization. Other candidates complained that he should divvy up and help state headquarters.

An attempt by Miller forces to put campaign funds under control of a five-member committee failed. The group would have been composed of elective Statehouse office candidates, including governor.

Hanhart promised to "expand all my efforts and energy" to elect the entire Democratic ticket next November. Without mentioning finances, he added that he always had done that.

Speculation indicated that Miller's failure stemmed from a traditional rural-urban political division. His forces reportedly lined up a score of major city members against Hanhart in advance of the meeting by telephone and personal contacts. But he needed 24 votes.

Friends and Miller couldn't get enough votes because of the dislike of smaller city members for big city domination of the party organization.

The Cuyahoga chairman sought to limit membership on the state Democratic Executive Committee to the 46 Central committeemen and women elected by congressional districts in the May 4 primary. That would have made Hanhart ineligible to head the Executive Committee because he is not a Central committeeman. The move failed.

The Central Committee that handles policy voted, 34-9, to add 27 at-large members to the central committee in forming the working Executive Committee. One Central Committee member did not vote and two were absent. Former Lt. Gov. George D. Nye of Waverly, Lausche running-mate and candidate for presiding Senate officer this year, made the motion. Approval assured Hanhart, an at-large member, the chairmanship of the executive group.

Dan W. Duffy of Cleveland, Miller cohort who lost his committee seat in the primary, set outside the closed meeting with newsmen and political candidates. He asserted that the Lausche administration swung votes to Hanhart by promising committee members license bureaus and other favors.

Complaints of anti-Lausche forces have included claims that the governor often by-passes county chairmen in handling patronage.

SENTENCED TO JAIL

LISBON — James McKinney, 28, of East Liverpool was sentenced to a year in Mahoning County jail and fined $1,000 on a charge of non-support heard before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin Monday. Judge Tobin said McKinney failed to support his two children since November of 1952. He has been residing in Montana.

WEATHER WAS WARM, THE WATER WET—Women and children fall into a fountain pool on City Hall Square in Copenhagen, Denmark after being pushed by people wanting a better look from the rear at the annual children's festival procession there. It was a warm day for the affair. The victims of the unexpected dunking laughed with the crowd at their embarrassment.

County Education Group Makes Banquet Plans

LISBON — The County Education Association executive committee set dates for the fall and spring banquets, to be held Oct. 14, 1954 and April 22, 1955, at a meeting Monday at Lepper Library.

Improvement in the new teachers' handbook, distributed recently were discussed. New president, Lester Hickman of Highlandtown School, conducted business. The committee will meet Friday at 2 p.m. at the library to plan the teachers' workshop set for Sept. 24.

Talmadge Heckled By Yankees On Segregation

ATLANTA (AP) — The telephone rang far into the night after Gov. Herman Talmadge commented on the U. S. Supreme Court decision striking down public school segregation.

He had said that Georgia people "cannot and will not accept a bald political decree . . . which overturns their accepted pattern of life."

Many hecklers telephoned from distant places. Wearily, Talmadge finally turned over the phone answering to his wife.

"Tell those Yankees the governor isn't here. Tell them he's busy reviewing troops."

ASKS NEW ATTACK TRIAL

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Allan P. Daniel, 28, former Girls' Industrial School "parent" convicted last Thursday of felonious assault on a 15-year-old inmate, yesterday asked a new trial. He cited "inflammatory and prejudicial" letters admitted in court. He referred to the inmate. His attorney, in filing for a new trial, said the letters were incompetent to prove the charge.

Bird Study Club Holds 'Century Day'

Six members of the Salem Bird Study Club saw 133 species of birds on their first annual "Century Day" Sunday. Participating were Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Hartley, Dr. G. W. Richter, Meredith Livingston Jr., Roy Booth and William C. Baker.

Guilford and Evans Lakes and the valleys of the middle and west forks of Little Beaver Creek and Little Yellow Creek were visited by different groups.

The observers said the height of the warbler migration apparently has been retarded. Twenty-three species of the 38 that have been seen in this area were reported.

Worm eating and hooded warblers were seen by the Hartleys in the Little Yellow Creek valley where they nest.

Unusual birds reported were a group of four long-eared owls seen along the West fork by Richter, and a pair of white-eyed vireos spotted by Booth and Baker near Tegarden.

The long eared owls are so rare in Columbiana County that many observers see them no often than once in 10 years.

The white-eyed vireos are southern birds which are gradually moving northward and have been seen by several observers in recent years. Two late birds observed were the winter wren and purple finch.

Washingtonville

Bethel Class of the Methodist Church held its monthly meeting in the social room of the church Wednesday.
